Prohibition Issue May Disrupt Convention

DRY LEADERS WILL FIGHT WET PLANK

Move Also on Foot to Supplant Curtis as Vice-Presidential Candidate

FIGHT ON CHAIRMAN

Women Plan to Battle to End Against Resubmission Platform Plank

CHICAGO, June 11.—(UP)—Explosive possibilities lurked today beneath the calm surface of the Republican national convention preliminaries. First, supporters of the party four years ago may make a dramatic protest against what they regard as a threatened betrayal by the party over the prohibition issue.
Second, some delegates and convention influences hope an opportunity will occur to stampede the convention and upset the vice presidential end of the ticket with a substitute for Charles Curtis.
Third, the Republican national committee, in deciding contests among factions of southern delegates, ignored the administration appeals by Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, Mr. Hoover's political manager and southern patronage dispenser, and reinstated factions which President Hoover had ejected from party control in South Carolina and Mississippi in this campaign to purify southern Republicanism in 1929. To the professional politician, concerned with control of the Republican organization, this situation holds important possible consequences.
Fourth, a struggle over the Republican national chairmanship is going on under the surface. It is Mr. Hoover's prerogative to select his own campaign manager but a number of old timers on the national committee are set against any cabinet member or anyone else too closely associated with the administration being named.
The significance of the new turn

ISSUES ON NEW YORK STOCK MARKET FOLLOW AUBURN RISE

BONUS ARMY IN WASHINGTON IS MARKING TIME

Ten Thousand Veterans Now Encamped at Capital and More Coming

WITH THE BONUS EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN WASHINGTON, June 11.—(UP)—The bonus army today turned its eyes toward Chicago and the national conventions.

Leaders of the army were considering dispatching a committee to Chicago to demand that Republicans and Democrats adopt platform planks calling for payment of the $2,000,000,000 bonus to World War veterans.
Commander in Chief Walter W. Waters and Harold B. Faulkner, the bonus army's legislative committee chief, tentatively approved the proposal. It was to be more fully considered by the executive committee today. The decision may depend somewhat on the outcome of Monday's bonus vote in the house.
The army apparently has no intention of abandoning its siege even if the house defeats the bonus. On the contrary the 10,000 already here are settling down to stay and the leaders are calling up more and more reinforcements.
An enlistment drive was begun which Commander Waters claimed would soon have 50,000 more veterans on the way to Washington. Special recruiting squads were started out to concentrate new marchers in St. Louis, Camden, Philadelphia and southern points.
The ragged and weather beaten veterans are gradually bringing

Dispute Over Airplane Divorce Cause

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—(UP)—A dispute over the manner of piloting an airplane led her husband to leave her, Blanche Wilbur Hearst testified here today as she was granted a divorce from George Randolph Hearst, newspaper publisher and son of William Randolph Hearst.
He deserted her, she claimed, after a dispute they had when he landed his airplane at night and without lights at the San Simeon ranch of the elder Hearst.
She was a passenger in the plane at the time.

JEWELRY AND GOLD SEIZED IN SANTIAGO

New Socialist Government of Chile Confiscates $120,000 in Gold

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 11.—(UP)—Chile's Socialist government sent carabinieri to raid jewelry stores and seize gold and jewelry today, close foreign exchange shops and commandeer all foreign currency on the stock exchange. Approximately 1,000,000 pesos ($120,000) in gold was confiscated.
Receipts were given for all gold and jewelry seized which may be redeemed in Chilean currency at the official rate of exchange. The carabinieri also confiscated all arms carried by members of the stock exchange.
The raiders descended on 55 foreign exchange shops, breaking the signs of "Compro Oro" (we buy gold) over their doors. After the raids on the shops, a cordon of carabinieri was placed around the stock exchange.
Minister of Finance Lagarrigue told the United Press the government intended to carry out the decree for the exchange of foreign currency accounts into Chilean pesos at the rate of 1650 to the dollar. He said foreign banks as well as Chilean institutions would be called upon to deliver their accounts for exchange into pesos.
The minister said that in case the bank refused to deliver their foreign currency, "conductive measures will be taken. The government has means to enforce respect for its laws."
Lagarrigue said the new law would be beneficial to Chile by preventing exchange fluctuations and speculation.

LOS ANGELES CIVIC LEADER ENDS HIS LIFE

William Lacy, Former President of C. of C. Commits Suicide

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—(UP)—William Lacy, 67, prominent locally as a civic leader and a financier, committed suicide by gas in the laundry room of his expensive home in the Wilshire district today, police reported.
His health was held responsible for his act.
At the time of his death Lacy was president of the Lacy Manufacturing company, president of the Pacific Clay Products corporation and vice president of the Farmers and Merchants National bank.
He formerly was president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Community Chest.
Lacy's body was found in the laundry room in the garage at the rear of his home shortly before 8 a. m. His sister-in-law, Miss Alice Gordon, made the discovery when a search was started by family members as they learned Lacy was not in his bedroom.
Police reconstructing Lacy's actions, said he apparently left his bed about daylight. He was clad only in pajamas. In the laundry room he drew a pillow case over his head and ran a short gas hose into the case and then turned on the gas.
Lacy's son, Roy, said his father suffered a nervous breakdown about four weeks ago and that the family had worried about him since. He said his father had not been active in business affairs for some months.

INVESTIGATOR PUT ON STAND

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(UP)—Chairman Norbeck of the senate banking and currency committee announced that David Stock, committee investigator, would testify today in the stock market inquiry regarding the alleged loss of $100,000,000 by the public in an investment company sponsored by Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland, O., capitalist.
Lacy's son, Roy, said his father suffered a nervous breakdown about four weeks ago and that the family had worried about him since. He said his father had not been active in business affairs for some months.

Wheat Takes Spurt; Bonds Also Go Up

Detroit is Brightest Spot With Reports of Improving Conditions

NEW YORK, June 11.—(UP)—Auburn automobile today soared to 78, up 9 1/4 points net and exactly double its price a week ago, its spurt bringing the entire stock market up 1 to 3 points. Part of these gains was lost before the close on week-end profit-taking. Losses were substituted in some instances.
The sensational rise in Auburn was a feature of the week on the exchange. The issue had a turnover of more than 150 per cent of its common stock outstanding and the price doubled at the expense of a short interest. Until the late trading today, indications were a technical corner existed in the stock. As more stock became available near the close, the price reacted from the high.
Steel common drifted back toward the previous close after reaching 28 1/4, up 1 5/8 points. American Can also eased off from its high of 39 7/8, up 2 points. American Telephone touched 37 1/4, up 2 7/8 and then declined. Selling was noted in Western Union on its poor earnings statement for April, showing a net loss of $18,871, against net income of $963,315 in April, 1931.
Woolworth slipped back a point net after reaching 27 1/2, up a point. Union Pacific touched 41, up 2 1/2, and sank more than a

STANFORD STUDENT INJURED IN CRASH

PALO ALTO, Calif., June 11.—(UP)—Carlton Beal, Jr., 19-year-old son of a prominent Los Angeles family, was in a critical condition here today from injuries received when the airplane he was learning to fly crashed on the Stanford university campus.
Beal, who is a student at Menlo Junior college, apparently lost control of the small plane during a solo flight. He received two broken legs and severe internal injuries.

Lindy Suspect Arrested In Detroit

DETROIT, June 11.—(UP)—An anonymous telephone message saying he was a friend of Violet Sharpe, maid at the Dwight Morrow home who killed herself, caused the arrest and questioning today of Robert Burns, 20.
After Detectives Frank Carr of Newark, and Robert Coar of Jersey City, here questioning Harry Fleisher, Purple gangster, had talked with Burns for an hour, they announced they did not believe he had anything to do with the Lindbergh baby kidnapping.
The youth was held, however, pending a check on his handwriting with that of notes received by Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.
Questioning of Fleisher, the New Jersey officers indicated, so far has yielded nothing of importance.

G. O. P. LEADERS REBUFF HOOVER WITH DECISION

Decline to Oust Two Old Line Southern Bosses in Solid South

CHICAGO, June 11.—(UP)—President Hoover's rebuff at the hands of the Republican national committee, which refused flatly to back him up in his "purification" of the party in the South, was assessed here today in the light of its effect on his prestige and leadership.
Overriding a personal plea by Postmaster General Walter F. Brown, who spoke for the chief executive, the committee declined to oust from the inner party councils two old-line bosses in South Carolina and Mississippi whose tactics Mr. Hoover had disapproved publicly and whose heads he had demanded.
One is a white man—the tall and ambling "fleeceless Joe" Tolbert, boss of South Carolina, and the other a politically astute negro—Perry Howard of Mississippi, who has been indicted for selling postmaster appointments, a common charge laid at the door of the old Southern Republican system. Both are national committeemen.
To observers here it was a more deep seated matter than the apathy of hard boiled party leaders to follow their chief in a reform that, at best, had turned out to be but a series of compromises.
It was tacit notice that the national committee does not consider itself the tool of Mr. Hoover. It was tacit notice that the committee is looking forward four years and does not intend to tie itself to the apron strings of the president for his pulling about when it comes time to consider a successor.
National committeemen are thinking of their own skins, too. Anyone of them might be the next target of Mr. Hoover's displeasure.

Man Who Was With Violet Sharpe on Night Baby Kidnaped Claims Alibi

STATEMENT IS MADE

Handwriting of Man Under Arrest Compared With That on Kidnap Note

TRENTON, N. J., June 11.—(UP)—Ernest Brinkert, taxicab driver who was with Violet Sharpe the night of the Lindbergh kidnapping, today was questioned at the Alpine, N. J., station of the state police, according to an official bulletin by Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf.
The police bulletin said: "Ernest Brinkert, held by the New Rochelle police, volunteered to go to the Alpine station of the state police and subject himself to any questioning and investigation desired. At the present time he is at the Alpine station of the state police and the investigation of him is being continued."
"He has an alibi for his whereabouts on March 1 and 2 stating that he and his wife were in Bridgeport, Conn., and spent the night of the first and second in a very nice home owned by a negro at that place. This is being investigated."
"The man now at Alpine under the name of Ernest Brinkert is the same man whose picture we have and which picture was shown to Violet Sharpe. The man is the same one whose picture was identified by Violet Sharpe. The picture of him in our possession was obtained from

SECOND PAYMENT IS GIVEN DEPOSITORS

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—(UP)—Depositors in the United States Building and Loan association were given a second payment of 10 per cent in a series of liquidating dividends when checks totaling $725,000 were mailed today, Receiver W. H. Comstock announced.
The present payment was made possible two or three months earlier than otherwise would have been the case, through a $200,000 loan from the Citizens National Trust and Savings bank, Comstock explained.
Present values of the assets, $6,398,390.44, compared with liabilities of $6,755,899.85, he said.
In the future Comstock said, dividends will be paid on a basis of five per cent each, instead of 10 per cent in order to avoid long waits between payments.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

BEVERLY HILLS, June 11. (To the Editor of The Register:—) Why, the dries are diving off the springboard so fast there won't be any room in the water for the original wets. Will H. Hays, the old Presbyterian circuit rider, went off the sixty-foot board into the deepest part yesterday. Bishop Cannon is just trying to find a new bathing suit now that will fit him.
When everybody gets through saying everything in the world about a subject, why, then, Calvin Coolidge comes along and says what should have been said in the first place. In these times of everybody guessing and alibiing, Calvin can still see clear. But that's why he is where he is, because he could always see ahead.
Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

BIG NAVAL AIRSHIP DEPARTS FOR EAST

SUNNYVALE, Calif., June 11.—(UP)—Moving slowly away from her west coast mooring mast, the Akron, pride of the navy's air forces, began her return cruise to Lakehurst, N. J., today after spending several weeks on the Pacific coast. She cast off at 10:13 a. m. and turned south, to follow the coastline to Los Angeles.
Overcast skies and a low fog had delayed her departure.
Lieut. Com. C. E. Rosendahl said the route to be followed would be approximately the same as that over which the Akron made her first visit to the Pacific coast several weeks ago.
Proceeding along the coastline to Los Angeles and San Pedro, she will then swing toward San Bernardino and over the Salton Sea, rather than follow a more southerly route across Southern California to San Diego.

SALING SETS WORLD RECORD IN HURDLES

CHICAGO, June 11.—All existing records for the 120-yard high hurdles were smashed here today by George Saling, Iowa, when he won the event in the National Collegiate track and field meet in 14:11 seconds.
After his defeat in the high hurdles, Jack Keller, Ohio State, came back to win the 220-yard low hurdles in the world's record smashing time of 32.7 seconds.
Glen Cunningham, Kansas's sophomore, defeated Henry Brocksmith, Indiana, in the mile run. Cunningham's time for the mile was 4 minutes 11.1 seconds.
Ralph Metcalfe, Marquette, continued his world's record-breaking sprinting by winning the 220-yard dash in 29.5 seconds.
The sixth meet record fell when Charles Shugert, Miami, U., won the two-mile run in 9 minutes, 16.7 seconds.

HEIRS BRING SUIT AGAINST DEFENDER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—(UP)—Seeking to establish that he was in dire need of funds, prosecuting attorneys today sought to link Public Defender Frank J. Egan, held without bail on a charge of murdering his aged benefactress, Mrs. Jessie Scott Hughes, 67-year-old widow, with shortages in the estate of Mrs. Kate Weber. Charges made in a civil suit filed by eight heirs of Mrs. Weber, who was a client of Egan, that the public defender looted her estate of $8000 were considered "significant" by investigators. They planned to look into the allegations in the belief any evidence found would strengthen the murder charge against him.
From his jail cell, Egan termed himself "an innocent victim" in the handling of Mrs. Weber's estate.

TAKE NO ACTION ON SPECIAL SESSION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—(UP)—Governor James Rolph's statewide water commission had ended one of its regular meetings today after deciding to ask the reconstruction finance corporation for funds with which to carry out Sacramento and San Joaquin valley irrigation projects.
It was estimated that $159,000,000 should be needed to get the first half of the state water project underway, and that $70,000,000 of that amount should be expended for the immediate construction of Kennett dam, on the Sacramento river.
The commission held in abeyance a vote on a special session of the legislature to determine a definite water program course to be followed.

BISCUIT COMPANY ASKS FOR DAMAGES

WILMINGTON, Del., June 11.—(UP)—The National Biscuit Co., a New Jersey corporation, filed suit in the federal court here today against the Kellogg company of Battle Creek, Mich., charging unfair competition in the manufacture and sale of shredded wheat biscuits.
The suit, which asked the court to enjoin the defendant from manufacturing the product similar to the whole wheat biscuits of the plaintiff company and advertising them as "shredded wheat biscuits," also asked that the court adjudge the amount of damage which should be paid.
Good will of the plaintiff company, endangered by the similarity of product and advertisement, was valued at $5,000,000. The bill said at least $250,000 already had been lost by the plaintiff through the activities of the Kellogg company.

IDENTIFY BODY FOUND FRIDAY NEAR HIGHWAY

Sheriff's officers late last night identified the charred remains of a body found yesterday afternoon a short distance off the Coast Highway at Doheny Park as that of J. R. Robinson, 40, an apartment house proprietor of Los Angeles who had been seen since March 25. The charred skeleton was discovered about 4 o'clock by Joe R. Clark, an employee of the Petroleum Securities corporation, who was burning weeds along the highway.

Hidden in the brush, the body was not found until after the brush had been burned. Only the gray remains of the skeleton were intact.

The sheriff's office today was making a complete investigation of the matter to determine whether the man was a suicide or had been murdered. A physician from San Clemente stated that what appeared to be a bullet hole was in the temple of the skeleton.

A gun was found in the burned skeleton, as well as cartridges for the gun. A bullet was located on the shoulder of the skeleton.

The body was located about 100 feet to one side of the highway. Identification of the remains was made by Herman Zabel, of the local sheriff's office and Los Angeles officers who checked on the man's identity.

The dead man was found to have been the proprietor of the Zena apartments of Los Angeles. It was ascertained that he was last seen on March 25 when he showed $150 in large bills to Tony, a barber, in the apartments. The man told the barber that he was going to have a "good time" with the money. He had purchased the gun in a Los Angeles store on March 22.

There were no teeth nor false teeth found in the skeleton. This fact puzzled officers until it was learned that he often went without teeth.

6 GET PROBATION, COUNTY JAIL TERMS

Six youths appeared before Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday petitioning probation and had their petitions granted under condition that they serve sentences in the county jail.

Joe Markley and James Kerwich, who pleaded guilty to burglary charges, were given probation for two years each on condition that they spend the remainder of the summer vacation in the county jail. The court order will release them on September 10, in time to return to high school.

Robert Rumsbaugh, Sherman Mashburn, Floyd Hoots and Annie Newcomb, who admitted a series of small store robberies in Santa Ana and Tustin, were granted probation for five years each. As a condition of their probation they must serve one year in the county jail during which time they will work at the county park. They will not be permitted to smoke cigarettes during the time they are in jail.

Life Of Artist To Be Reviewed

An autobiography of Frank Lloyd Wright, creative artist, will be the subject of the Book Review to be given by Mary Burke King over KREG at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

Wright's work has moved Alexander Woolcott to say, "If I were suffered to apply the word 'genius' to only one living American, I would save it for Frank Lloyd Wright."

The story is that of the universal rebel and radical—the man with a vision who has the courage and force to live it out in the drag and teeth of ignorance and social inertia.

AVIATION MEET TO BE HELD AT MARTIN FIELD

Plans for the largest aviation meet that has ever been held outside the Los Angeles area are being completed by officials of the Eddie Martin Airport here. The meet is planned for sometime during the next two or three weeks to mark the formal dedication of boundary lights recently installed at the flying field.

Installation of the boundary lights were completed Thursday and are in use at present. The work of installation was in charge of Joe Hicks and was paid for by money collected through taking passengers on special flights over the Santiago dam. The lights were secured for the field through co-operation of George A. Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, and the aviation committee of that organization.

Pilots in charge of arrangements for the aviation meet said yesterday that they expect to be able to announce the definite date for the event early next week. The program being planned will offer thrills and entertainment for an entire day and evening.

Herb Stark, parachute jumper from Los Angeles will be at the field tomorrow for an exhibition.

OUTLOOK IN CHINA IS FORUM SUBJECT

Dr. Jesse Lee Corley, director of religious education for the Southern California conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be the principal speaker tomorrow morning at the session of the Open Forum class of the First Methodist church. This class meets at 9:30 a. m.

The subject for the day is "The Outlook in China." He spent a year in China under the International Council of Religious Education organizing a religious education program in that country and has just returned.

The service will be broadcast over KREG.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICES FOR HIGH SCHOOLS, JUNIOR COLLEGE CLASSES SUNDAY

THREE Baccalaureate services are scheduled for Santa Ana tomorrow. The graduating class of the Santa Ana Junior college will attend services at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon in the First Presbyterian church. Services for the high school graduates will be held tomorrow night at 7:30 in the high school auditorium and the graduating classes of Frances Willard and Julia Lathrop junior high schools will attend services at the First Baptist church.

The Rev. Raymond Cummings, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the junior college baccalaureate sermon. D. K. Hammond, president of the college, will preside. The program will be:

Organ recital, Alan Revell; academy procession; doxology; anthem, "Beautiful Savior"; Christian hymn, by the college; Acapella choir; Scripture reading, by the Rev. Perry F. Schrock, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; hymn, "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life"; solo, "If With All Your Hearts Ye Truly Seek Me"; Mendelssohn, by Marjorie Hare; sermon, the Rev. E. D. Brooks, pastor of the First Baptist church; benediction by Rev. Perry F. Schrock, and exit march, "Panfare," Gilbert.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will deliver the address at the high school service. He has announced his topic as "What Price Leadership?" The Rev. W. Rehnish, president of the Santa Ana Ministerial union, will preside. Program for this service will be:

Professional, "Here They Come," Weidt, by the high school orchestra; overture, "Love and Loyalty," Barnard, high school orchestra; hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," prayer, by the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church; "Resignation" and "The Prayer Perfect," by the mixed glee clubs; Scripture reading, Philipians III, 1-16, by Ralph Smedley, secretary of the Y. M. C. A.; sermon, "What Price Leadership," by the Rev. Mr. McFarland; hymn, "Come Thou Almighty King," and recessional, "Spirit of Peace," Fillmore, by the high school orchestra.

Joint services for the graduating classes of the two junior high schools will be held at the First Baptist church with the pastor, the Rev. Harry E. Owens, delivering the talk on "The Excellent Things." He will be assisted by the Rev. E. W. Matz, pastor of the First Evangelical church, who will deliver the invocation and direct the scriptural reading.

A musical program will precede the sermon and be presented by the combined glee clubs of the Frances Willard school, under direction of Esther Jean Davis and the Girls Glee club of the Lathrop school under direction of Mrs. Maxine Bryte.

STOCK ISSUES MAKE ADVANCE IN NEW YORK

point under the previous close. Other rails followed.

Wheat retained its wide gains of yesterday and during the greater part of the session added to them. Cotton rose a few points. Bonds moved up irregularly.

An adverse factor was resumption of the rise in foreign currencies against the dollar. Stealing was up 1-2 cent, while substantial recoveries were noted in French, Belgian, German, Dutch and Swedish currencies.

There was little in the day's news to affect the market. The brightest spot was a report from Detroit showing conditions improving in many lines. Department store sales in Detroit made a better showing in May than in April as compared with 1931 months; collections improved; automobile sales increased.

According to preliminary calculation, the Dow Jones & Co. industrial average stood at 48.26, off .58 points, rail average at 16.64, up .25 points and the utility average at 18.42, off .06 points.

Sales totaled $95,250 shares, compared with $98,562 shares last Saturday.

BEACH MAN DENIES DRUNKEN DRIVING

Charged with driving while intoxicated, Carroll L. Stewart, 28, of Newport Beach, who was arrested at 2 o'clock this morning by Police Officers Murray, Heard and Flower at the corner of Eleventh and Main streets, appeared before Judge John G. Mitchell today to answer to the charge.

Stewart entered a plea of not guilty and the date of his trial before the court was set for next Tuesday at 3 p. m. He was lodged in the county jail.

Gerald Blakely, 26, who was arrested in company with Stewart, also pleaded not guilty to a drunk charge when he appeared before Judge Mitchell today. His case was set for June 14 at 3 p. m. when he will be tried by the court.

John Lyon was committed to the county jail today by Judge Mitchell to serve a 7 1-2 day sentence given him on a drunk charge.

Charles Venners of Orange and D. Ruiz of Santa Ana both paid $10 fines this morning on speeding counts.

"Dr. Condon (Jasie) interviewed Ernest Brinkert in New Rochelle after talking to him told the police authorities that he did not recognize him and had never seen him before and could make no identification of him in any way.

"Edna Sharpe, sister of Violet Sharpe, left for England on April 6, four days after the ransom was paid, and Scotland Yard has been requested to carry on an extensive investigation as to her possible connection with the Lindbergh case. No report has as yet been received from Scotland Yard.

"The only time that Violet Sharpe was at Hopewell was when she was brought there several weeks ago for questioning. At that time she stated that she had never been to Hopewell before."

of affairs is that possible future friction may develop between Mr. Hoover and regulars who opposed him in 1928 until he beat them in the convention, Charles D. Hillis, New York national committeeman, is one—are resentful at the domination of what is called the Hoover "Boy Scout" group in party affairs.

These men, who were in league to "stop Hoover" at Kansas City four years ago, finally bowed to the inevitable. Now these men who have made politics a life-time profession, and many of them have been at it 20 or 30 years, are looking far beyond the next few weeks. They are thinking of the time not far distant when, whether Mr. Hoover is elected for a second term or not, the question of who shall control the party machinery will involve great future stakes. President makers figure years ahead.

The prohibition last ditchers, who carried the banner for President Hoover four years ago are putting up a grim fight against the engulfing tide of resubmission. Their great generals are not on hand to lead them. Wayne B. Wheeler is dead. Senator Borah stays in Washington. Mrs. Mabel Willbrandt is here as a delegate from California and she intends to vote for resubmission. A small number of the faithful gathered at one of the churches here to consider their plight.

P. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league and Bishop Cannon are their chief pillars in Chicago.

They take much credit for selecting President Hoover four years ago. They are not happy over his present leaning toward a resubmission plank. Many of them, particularly the women, want to fight to the end against it. They are willing to go on their knees before the convention to plead with the party in the name of children and the home not to desert absolute federal prohibition.

Company streets have been formed. Troops from the various states have in some instances formed common messes.

The army's funds have been swelled about $8000 from the receipt of $5000 from the Rev. Father Charles E. Coughlin of Detroit, head of the Little Flower Radio league. Trucks from Hoboken, N. J., and Baltimore, Md., trundled up to the doors of the army's commissary on Pennsylvania avenue and disgorged tons of food.

District of Columbia authorities, unable to persuade the army to disband, clung to a slight hope that it would slowly dissolve.

L. A. BONUS ARMY
SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., June 11.—(UP)—Southern California's bonus expeditionary army, 1200 strong, will remain here until tomorrow morning, Loyal W. Robertson, commander, announced today.

Originally the army planned to push on to El Centro this morning but the delay was necessary to permit better organization of the forces and the transportation, Robertson said.

FIVE CAR LOADS RELIEF FLOUR RECEIVED HERE

Orange county should be well supplied with flour for needy families in the near future. Five car loads of flour which is being distributed by the American Red Cross and which is furnished by the government, have been received here, according to an announcement made today by Byron V. Curry, director of the welfare department for the county.

It has been impossible as yet to compute the number of sacks or pounds represented in the shipments as all of the cars have not yet been unloaded and the sacks counted, it is reported.

One of the cars was designated for Fullerton and another for Anaheim. The balance will be distributed through recognized relief agencies throughout the county. The welfare department of the county will distribute the flour in Santa Ana. Another warehouse is located in Fullerton where distribution for the smaller communities in the northern part of the county takes place.

Welfare Director Curry believes that the five cars of flour represent the entire second shipment of flour which has been allotted to Orange county, of more than 156,000 pounds of flour which will be used to alleviate distress among needy families in the county.

The first shipment of 156,000 pounds was obtained early this spring, and part of this lot is still on hand, Curry reported today. Demands for flour are increasing, he said.

JAMBOREE TO BE HELD AT CIVIC BOWL

The big event of the year for Orange County Scouts will be held at the Santa Ana Bowl at 7:30 o'clock tonight, when Orange county parents who have been wondering just what their boys have been doing when they go to meetings of their Scout troops will have an opportunity to find out, as some 1200 boys representing 52 troops will participate in the seventh annual Boy Scout Jamboree.

Preparations are being made to handle a record crowd, as the contests which the boys will engage in will be well worth seeing. Proceeds from the Jamboree will be used to send boys to Camp Rokill for an outing in the San Bernardino mountains. The annual Jamboree is sponsored by the 40 and S society which today won prizes for its efforts in a statement issued by the Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the First Methodist church.

"My congratulations are to the 40 and S in their organization and conduct of the Scout Jamboree," said Rev. Warner. "The attractions are such that the children enjoy. There is a good time in store for everyone who attends. This Jamboree has become quite an institution in Orange county. The Scout program is a great program. Those who would enjoy understanding it more intimately will gain worth-while impressions on Saturday night by attendance at this Jamboree."

JUDGES GRANT FOUR DIVORCE DECREES HERE

The divorce mill ground slowly yesterday and turned out but four interlocutory decrees. Superior Judge James L. Allen, sitting in department two granted three of the decrees, and Superior Judge H. G. Ames, department one, granted the other.

Dorothy C. Dean, who alleged that after 14 years of married life the marriage had never been consummated, was given her decree by Judge Ames when she testified that her husband Burton F. Dean refused to buy her clothes, forced her to work and turn her money over to pay household bills, and on several occasions left her and remained away from home until his money was gone when he would return and beg forgiveness.

Because C. L. Wilson Jr. came home during the early morning hours and told his wife, "I think it would be a good idea for me to cut your throat," his wife Mrs. Avis F. Wilson, who is soon to become a mother, was given an interlocutory decree by Judge Allen on charges of cruelty.

Mrs. Beatrice D. Goulding, Fullerton, chiropractor, was given a decree of divorce from her husband-assistant, Willard R. Goulding, on her plea of cruelty. Mrs. Goulding said that on one occasion her husband left home and remained away for two days because she asked him to help paint and clean the office. He was addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor, she said, and on many occasions caused her extreme worry because of his actions. She alleged that he took monthly installments from the joint bank account and told her that a bootlegger had threatened him with death unless paid $50 each month.

Earl Boyes was granted a divorce from Myrtle Boyes on a complaint charging desertion.

Tosses Jail Food, Now He Can Stay

Chalmers Beard could have been a free man tomorrow with the expiration of his sentence in the county jail, if he could have just resisted that impulse to throw mush, peaches and milk around in the jail and from making "loud and unusual noises."

Beard and Kenneth Crowder both appeared before Judge Kenneth E. Morrison in the justice court today to answer to charges of disturbing the peace in connection with the food throwing episode. Bail was set at $500 in each case and the date of arraignment was set for June 13 at 9 a. m. Both men could be fined $250 or sentenced to spend 90 days in jail on the charge.

Local Briefs

The Broadway Storage Garage, at Sixth and Broadway, was opened for business yesterday by Frederick Elliott and Jack Fredericks. In addition to storage they plan to give special greasing and washing service.

Two public events, a card party at 2:00 p. m. and a dance at 8 p. m. have been arranged for next Monday by the drum corps of the Veterans of Foreign Wars to raise funds for that organization. The affairs will be held in the K. of P. hall at Fifth and Broadway, and the public is invited to attend.

GOVERNMENTAL COSTS IN SANTA ANA LAST YEAR TOTAL $4,500,000, TAX REPORT SHOWS

Santa Ana's cost of all government—city, school, county, state, and national, reached the staggering total of $4,500,000 last year, passed on a per capita cost of $147 for every man, woman and child in the city, according to figures released today by Wayne Goble, secretary of the Orange County Civic league, which is sponsoring a movement for a 25 per cent reduction in taxes and public expenditures.

"Dividing the cost of city government alone equally among our population of slightly more than 30,000, we find that the cost per person, men, women and children—of our city government last year was approximately $23," said Goble today.

"In the same manner, the per capita costs of all our governmental units can be computed, and we find the following surprising figures:

How It Adds Up
"Santa Ana city ..... $ 23.00
"Santa Ana schools ..... 47.49
"County of Orange ..... 23.96
"California state ..... 19.22
"Federal government ..... 33.33
Total ..... $147.00

"This makes a total per capita cost of $147 per person in one year for the maintenance of government, and reaches the staggering total of $4,500,000 for the entire city of Santa Ana, which some body had to pay.

"At my house, for instance, where there are eight people, our per capita cost of government last year was $1176, or nearly $100 per month. I paid part of it, through local personal property taxes, license, gasoline tax, corporation taxes for electricity, telephone, gas, etc., and the part I was unable to pay was made up by others in income taxes, inheritance taxes, and all the other forms of public revenue. But somebody had to pay that cost, and inasmuch as all costs, insofar as possible, are passed on down to the ultimate consumer, we at the bottom of the ladder usually have to pay all that we can possibly pay.

Drastic Cuts Needed
"If anyone still doubts the necessity of drastic tax reductions and economy in government, let him ponder the figures and visualize the sacrifices required for a city of 30,000 people to pay an annual tax bill of $4,500,000.

"It wouldn't be so bad if there were sufficient money in circulation so we could pay taxes, but with the money all hoarded in Wall Street and the privately-owned Federal reserve banks, the situation becomes unbearable, for no matter what the government costs are, they are too high, and many thousands of homes and farms have been lost.

"I am indebted to the Research department of the California Taxpayers association for the above figures relating to school, county, state, and federal per capita costs, and they represent as near as possible the net figures, with practically all duplications eliminated.

Figures From Reports
"In quoting me these figures, L. H. Gifford, chief engineer of the California Taxpayers association, wrote as follows:
"The above figures for schools and county were obtained from the statistical report of Orange county for the fiscal year 1930-31. Some over the protest of Tom McFadden, attorney for Superior, by Judge H. G. ## ANAHEIM MAN USES REVOLVER TO END LIFE

Leaving a note addressed to Henry Gatzens, an Anaheim friend, saying that he was tired of life, Theodore Diehrichs, 72, wealthy Anaheim bachelor posed before a mirror in the kitchen at his home at 503 East Chatterbox street some time Thursday and shot himself through the head.

The bullet penetrated back of the right ear and he fell backward under a table-dead. There he was found late Friday afternoon by J. J. Dillon, a neighbor, who alarmed at not having seen signs of life around Diehrichs' home, went to investigate. A .32 calibre revolver with one empty and five loaded chambers was found under the table close to his body.

Coroner E. R. Abbey immediately took charge of the investigation and today officially pronounced the case suicide. The body was taken to the Backs, Terry & Campbell funeral home where it is being held pending determination as to what disposition shall be made of it.

Diehrichs lived alone and has no relatives in this country. Some brothers and sisters reside in Germany according to a will found in a safety deposit box at the Bank of America when it was opened at 10 o'clock this morning by Coroner Abbey. Under terms of the will the estate of the deceased is left to these relatives. How large the estate will be, Coroner Abbey was unable to say.

Hard To Get At
"Reliable per capita costs of government are very difficult to obtain because of overlapping and duplication of expenditures between Federal, state and county governments; also, because of the fact that all governmental reports contain certain trust and agency transactions which do not represent actual costs of government, but are bookkeeping records of money collected for some special group and turned over to that group for final expenditure. This type of transaction is well illustrated in the case of gas tax money. The state collects three cents on each gallon of gasoline sold—two cents is then expended by the state for state highway construction, and one cent is returned to the counties for county highway construction. The one cent turned over to the counties by the state appears as a state disbursement which is duplicated later on in county highway expenditures.

County Total Huge
"The same thing holds true with the schools. The state raises large sums of money each year for school support. This is turned over to the counties and the counties in turn distribute it to the school districts. There are many minor duplications and it is practically impossible to eliminate all of them.

"The list herewith enclosed approximately the information you desire, with most of the duplications removed."

If the Santa Ana figure of $147 per person were carried out throughout Orange county—no more and no less—it would mean that Orange county's total cost of government from all sources would be $17,640,000 per year, it was pointed out.

SHOTGUN USED IN HOLDUP OF GAS STATION

Armed with a shotgun, two nattily attired bandits who wore white handkerchiefs over their faces, held up A. G. Helberg and robbed his service station at 1601 North Main street of about $40 in cash at 9:30 o'clock last night, according to a report of the holdup filed at the police station by Officers Heard and Fink who investigated the case.

The two robbers came into the service station, one of them brandishing a shotgun. Helberg was forced to sit on the floor while the other bandit emptied the contents of the cash register. In addition to the money, the bandits helped themselves to six packages of cigarettes.

Both of the robbers wore dark coats with light trousers which were striped in dark colors. Bandit No. 1 was described as being six feet tall, slender and apparently an American. Bandit No. 2 was five feet ten inches tall, slender, and an American.

No trace of the bandits had been found this morning.

BACCALAUREATE SERVICES FOR H. S. STUDENTS

Baccalaureate services for graduating class of the Santa Ana Polytechnic High school, scheduled for Sunday night will be broadcast over radio KREG. The entire service will be broadcast by direct wire from the high school auditorium.

The Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian will deliver the baccalaureate address. He has announced his subject as: "What Price Leadership?" The Rev. O. W. Reinius, pastor of the Richmond Avenue Methodist Episcopal church will preside during the service. Ralph Smedley will conduct the scripture reading and the Rev. Dr. George A. Warner will lead the prayer.

Sunday morning services of the First Methodist Episcopal church will be broadcast by direct wire. At this service the speaker will be Dr. Jesse Lee Corley who will talk on "The Growing Empire." Dr. Corley has just returned from a year spent in China where he conducted a religious educational program for all denominations. He was chosen for this work from among a great number of well-qualified men and was loaned for the work from the Committee of Religious Education for Southern California.

Judge Rutherford will deliver a lecture at 12:15, by electrical transcription and will talk on "Justifying War." The morning broadcast will feature the Religious Forum of the First Methodist church.

RADIO FEATURES

Time References Are Pacific Standard Time

An all Dvorak program, featuring the famous symphony "From the New World" will be heard during the symphonic hour broadcast from the direction of Howard Barlow, from 11 a. m. till noon, tomorrow, over a coast-to-coast Columbia network including KJH. Other selections on the program will include the joyous "Carneval Overture" and several of Dvorak's rhythmic Slavonic dances.

Adele Vesta, soprano, will be featured in a request offering of excerpts from the "Sacred Heart Mass" of Gounod during the presentation of the Cathedral hour tomorrow from noon to 1 p. m., over the Columbia chain. Miss Vesta will be accompanied in this number by the Cathedral choir and symphony orchestra. Other solo offerings of this musical service, which is directed each week by Channon Collins, will include Crane Calder's basso interpretation of the hymn by Hilfer, "Be Near Me Still"; Schubert's beautiful aria, "Ave Maria," sung by Barbara Maurel, contralto; and the request selection, "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knapp, sung by Theo Karle, tenor. KJH will release the program.

His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, archbishop of New York, will be heard tomorrow when he addresses more than 50,000 members of the Holy Name society in Central Park, New York City. This address will be in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the organization. The feature will come over the Columbia network at 1:30 p. m. and may be heard over KJH.

In response to many requests from radio listeners, Florenz Ziegfeld again will present his radio version of "Show Boat" during the broadcast at 6:30 p. m. tomorrow. Helen Morgan and Paul Robeson, now playing in the stage revival in New York, have been re-engaged for the second radio presentation. Others in the cast include Jean Sargent, contralto; Charles Carille, tenor; Eddie Dowling, master of ceremonies; and Al Goodman's orchestra. KJH will release the program.

Grace Moore, youthful American soprano who achieved fame in both grand and light opera, concerts and motion pictures, will be the guest star of the G.E. Circle program from 3 to 3:30 p. m. tomorrow over the NBC coast-to-coast network, including KFI. Miss Moore, who for four years has been a member of the Metropolitan Opera company, is a native of Tennessee. She received her early musical education in Washington, D. C. Later she studied in New York and then France. Her debut at the Opera Comique in Paris took place in 1928, the year in which she first sang at the Metropolitan.

Paying tribute to the American Legion and Old Glory, a Carnation Contended hour program of patriotic music will be broadcast over an NBC network from 8:30 to 9 tomorrow. A representative of the American Legion, speaking from the studios of KGW, Portland, will extend a greeting to the west and an invitation to the Legion convention which will be held in September in the Oregon city. Led by Emil Polak, the orchestra will open the program with a spirited selection entitled "From the Days of George Washington" Revolutionary day songs,

BANQUET HELD FOR COLLIER COLLEGE CHOR

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, June 11.—With the senior-junior banquet of the San Juan Capistrano union high school held last night at A. Travaglini's cafe at San Clemente, commencement exercises for the year got under way. On Sunday the baccalaureate service is scheduled. Commencement exercises are scheduled for next Friday and during the coming week many school events will feature the final days of the term.

Miss Dorothy Lape was toastmaster. Leland Mixon gave the address of welcome. Marilyn Snyder gave the response. Miss Ione Strum spoke for the faculty while Don Layden responded for the school board. The main address was made by J. S. Malcom, principal of the school.

Dr. Hugh McNinch will give the invocation at the baccalaureate service on Sunday, while Dr. Robert Hogarth, of San Clemente, will deliver the sermon. At the commencement exercises on next Friday, Dr. Hogarth will deliver the invocation. Marilyn Snyder, president of the senior class, will deliver an address. Henry Stewart will give the class oration. Henry Dietz will give a violin solo. A quartet composed of Russell Schneebarger, Myron Guilbert, Howard Lattimer and Leland Mixon, will sing. Elizabeth Lawson will deliver the address of welcome. The school song, written by Dale Hawley and Marilyn Snyder, will be sung.

On Wednesday the all around boy and girl will be selected at school exercises. The scholarship cup will be awarded at the Friday commencement.

Seniors present were Marilyn Snyder, Elizabeth Lawson, Oredion Jones, Dale Hawley, Allen Case, Pauline Clever, Chalmers Lawson, Eric Cliff, Henry Dietz, Russell Schneebarger, Henry Stewart, Gettie Carlisle, Richard Dorian, Pete Errecarte, Alberto Herrera, Joe Avila and Glenn Morton.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Malcom, Mr. and Mrs. H. Hubbard, Miss Ione Strum, Miss Margaret Nelson, Miss Hazel Guilbert, Mr. Stanley Gould and Lawrence Pitcher, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Lape, Dr. and Mrs. Paul Esslinger, Mr. and Mrs. Don Leyden, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crumrine and Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Barnes.

INDUSTRY TO ADOPT LOW PRESSURE TIRE

The low pressure tire will be generally adopted by the motor car industry because it fulfills the function of a tire better than any type ever produced, according to J. F. O'Shaughnessy, vice president in charge of sales, United States Rubber company.

"A pneumatic tire is a rolling cushion whose function is to smooth out smaller road inequalities." Mr. O'Shaughnessy explained. "The less its inflation, the greater its cushioning ability. Because the low pressure tire carries only about half as many pounds as the present type, it becomes a more effective cushion providing greater riding comfort."

Three car manufacturers already are offering low pressure tires as optional equipment, Mr. O'Shaughnessy said, and these tires will be standard equipment on many cars next year. United States tire dealers now have them for changeovers or new car equipment, Mr. O'Shaughnessy added.

Anaheim Pastor Hear Minister

GARDEN GROVE, June 11.—Dr. T. H. Walker, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Anaheim, will speak Tuesday evening at the Brotherhood meeting at the Alamos Friends church at which time dismissal will be made until September 13.

The usual pot-luck dinner will be served at 7 o'clock. Business to close the Brotherhood year will be transacted and the program will follow. Piano-accompaniment selections will be furnished by Jesse Marling, of Whittier.

PLAN CARD PARTY

TUSTIN, June 11.—A public card party will be sponsored by the Pythian Sisters at 8 o'clock Wednesday night in the K. of P. hall. Mrs. J. B. Harbour stated today. Both bridge and "500" will be played, with prizes awarded to those making special scores. Refreshments will be served. Mrs. R. E. Stone and Mrs. Thomas Shelden are in charge of arrangements for the affair. Mrs. Harbour added.

WILDFLOWERS BLOOM

There are many varieties of wildflowers in bloom now between Cuyamaca lake and Descanso, San Diego county, reports the touring department of the National Automobile club. Large patches of blossoming lupine and scarlet bugler cover the hillsides and fields, making the trip through this section especially attractive at this time.

NEW PONTIACS ON DISPLAY AT REID MOTOR CO.

Following an announcement made yesterday by W. R. "Story" Gordon, manager of the Reid Motor company, that the company has augmented its line of new model Buick cars by the addition of the Pontiac line, announcement was made today that the building will be open for the convenience of those that cannot visit the store in the daytime, until 9 o'clock every evening.

Four different models of the popular, low priced Pontiac models are now on display at the display rooms, as well as the Buick cars, which will still be handled by the company.

The company will be equipped to care for all Pontiacs in the southern part of Orange county, having been granted the territory for both sales and service.

The Reid Motor company has been in business in Santa Ana for the past 12 years.

SET PRECEDENT WHILE USING OIL IN RACING

Last week Nick Martino set a new precedent when he won all three feature races on Legion Ascot Speedway. He used Lion Head Motor Oil that is regularly sold by service stations, instead of castor oil. He is the first race driver to win an official A.A.A. sanctioned speedway contest using commercial motor oil, according to available records.

"Heretofore the cars that have won high speed racing contests, such as Indianapolis, Oakland and Legion Ascot have used castor oil," says Clarence S. Beesmyer, vice president of the Lion Head Oil Company, but the filter-press process by which Lion Head is refined and purified produces a motor oil with an oiliness unapproached by any other, and which successfully withstands the terrific strain of high speed racing motors.

"Racing car owners never before dared to risk their expensive machines to the kind of motor oils that are available at service stations. Wilbur Shaw made tests with Lion Head. He was convinced it was better than castor oil and used it to break the world record for Class 'C' cars, with a speed of 137.25 miles per hour. 'Stubby' Stubblefield was so impressed with the way Lion Head lubricated Shaw's car that he used regular S. A. E. 60 Lion Head when he broke four International and four African records. His speed was 148.21 miles per hour. Then Martino used it in speedway contests."

GOODRICH FLEET HELPS BUSINESS

More than $15,000 was distributed to California business enterprises last winter through operations of the test fleet of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber company, it is shown by figures just released. The Goodrich test fleet, with headquarters maintained at El Centro through the winter, traveled 215,670 miles in an extensive series of the tests. Expenditures included about $5000 for 33,700 gallons of gasoline, and around $700 for 2200 quarts of oil.

Wages paid to drivers of the test cars totaled approximately $7000, which was distributed for rent, food, and other necessities of life.

Miscellaneous purchases by the Goodrich organization, in connection with the operation of the test fleet, added several thousand dollars more to the amount of money put into circulation in California. Indirectly, all lines of business in the vicinity benefited to some extent.

DODGE ANNOUNCES NEW MOTOR HEAD

Dodge Brothers Corporation today announced that a new high-compression head, as standard equipment, increasing compression to 6.2 and horsepower from 90 to 100, replaces the cylinder head formerly used on all Dodge eight-cylinder models.

Instructions to dealers and owners specify that anti-knock gasoline of at least 72 Octane rating must be used to obtain satisfactory results from the Dodge Eight engine equipped with the high-compression head, except in cars operated in altitudes of 5000 feet above sea level where standard gasoline will give the same results.

The increased horsepower resulting from the use of this new cylinder head is said to improve acceleration, increase speed on the straightaway, power on hills and to give greater flexibility in operation.

Note Increase In New Car Registrations

New car registrations in Santa Ana during May totaled 21 and in Orange county 64, according to a report made today by Motor-Fax. Increased registrations for new automobiles in the low priced division for the month were noted.

A gain of 10 per cent over April was shown in registration of new trucks and commercial cars throughout the state during the last month. Gains in the low price division jumped from four per cent to 184 per cent over April, it was reported.

MANY WORKERS ARE AFFORDED JOBS ON ROADS

"We are hearing a great deal about employment and disputes arising as to the value of public works in aiding employment, but the records, by months, covering road work are clear evidence that road work affords much employment," said W. C. Markham, Executive Secretary of the American Association of State Highway Officials, today.

"I am basing this statement on a comparison of the contracts let and the actual enumeration of men employed by the States for the month of April," continued Markham. "There is no class of men in the country today who are making a greater effort to keep up employment than the State Highway Departments charged with road construction and maintenance, despite the fact that there has been a tremendous slump of contracts for the work in the first four months of 1932 compared to 1931. The highway departments by a shortening of hours and the employment of men, in many cases, not more than three days a week, has permitted them to give some employment to even a larger number of persons, although it is not for a full week."

BUYING POWER OF DOLLAR IN BIG INCREASE

The increased purchasing power of the dollar spent for automotive equipment today, as compared with the automotive dollar of a few years ago, has been impressively brought to the attention of the automobile owner by the Western Auto Supply company in their current newspaper advertising, according to Jack Campbell, local manager.

One outstanding example of the present day purchasing power of the automotive dollar was cited in the comparison of current tire prices with those quoted in the Western Auto advertising on 1925. The price paid for one Wear-well tire in 1925 will, at the present time, buy four Wear-well tires and two inner tubes in addition. Other startling examples of the increased value of the 1932 dollar include such equipment as automobile seat covers, which may now be purchased for one-third the price paid a few years ago; mirrors, windshield wipers, auto trunks and other accessories.

Storage battery prices of today, as compared with those of a few years ago, are perhaps the most outstanding. Every automobile owner can remember when he paid $30 to $40 for a storage battery for his car. Today, a better storage battery can be purchased for about five dollars.

According to figures compiled by the College of Commerce of the University of Southern California, the automotive dollar is now worth $2.18.

NEW TRIAL FOR GORE DENIED; ASKS PROBATION

Petition for a new trial for J. E. Gore, Balboa boatman recently convicted by a jury on a charge of criminal slander, was denied yesterday by Superior Judge H. G. Ames before whom it was presented. A. P. Nelson, attorney for Gore, requested a new trial on the grounds that new evidence tending to prove the truth of statements made by Gore had been discovered. Gore was ordered into custody of the sheriff until adequate bond had been provided.

Refusal of Judge Ames to grant Gore a new trial leaves the boatman facing a possible year in the county jail, a fine of not more than $5000 or both jail sentence and fine. Nelson filed a petition for probation for Gore and next Friday at 2:30 o'clock was set as the time for hearing on the petition.

Gore was found guilty of having declared, at a public meeting in Newport, that "your chief is a bootlegger and in league with the bootleggers." During his trial he attempted to prove that R. R. Hodgkinson, chief of police at Newport Beach, had given him a bottle of whiskey.

In an affidavit presented with the motion for a new trial Gore said that the new testimony was for the purpose of proving that Hodgkinson was in league with bootleggers. He alleged that the chief of police had refused to issue a warrant for the arrest of a man on the accusation of the man's wife that he was engaged in the liquor traffic.

In denying the motion for a new trial Judge Ames said that the affidavit charged the chief of police with declining to issue a warrant. That fact, the judge declared, does not signify that the official is in league with the bootleggers as it is the duty of a police official to ascertain what evidence a charge is based upon before issuing a complaint.

DR. DYE TO SPEAK AT CHURCH HERE

Dr. Royal J. Dye, founder of the first church mission of the Christian church in Africa will fill the pulpit of the First Christian church here tomorrow morning. Ernest Hill will assist with the services.

Dr. Dye has proven himself one of the greatest missionaries in the field as well as an outstanding speaker. He also will address the young people of the church at an evening meeting.

Noted Missionary To Address Men's Community Class

Dr. Royal J. Dye, noted African mission worker, will be the speaker tomorrow morning at the meeting of Men's Community Bible class in the Fox West Coast theater at 9:30 o'clock. He has proven himself one of the greatest missionaries in the church and is an eloquent and forceful speaker.

Music will be provided by the Santa Ana High school girls' sextette and Mark Hare, tenor, of the Junior college. Members of the sextette are the Misses Mary, Margaret and Frances Foster, Martha Winchell, Ethel Hughes and Bonnie Hamilton.

LODGE PROGRAM FOR FLAG DAY IS ANNOUNCED

Issuing an invitation to the public and patriotic organizations of the city to attend, Dr. Robert C. Currie, chairman of the Elk's Flag day program committee, today announced that Judge Homer Ames of the superior court will deliver the patriotic address at the annual observance of the day next Tuesday night.

The program will be presented at the Elks club at 8 p.m. It will open with singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and introductory exercises by officers of the lodge led by Exalted Ruler Gilbert P. Campbell, and a prayer by Chaplain E. L. Vegely. After singing of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" by the assembly, W. F. Menton will read a history of the flag. Altar service will be conducted and the audience will sing "Auld Lang Syne."

Special music, by the Olympic Eight, Ruth Armstrong, accompanist, will immediately precede Judge Ames' address. The program will close with the singing of "America."

Final Rites Held For Mrs. Sarah Cox

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Cox, widow of the late John B. Cox, was held yesterday at the Fairhaven chapel with the Rev. W. J. Hatter, of the Episcopal Church of the Messiah, officiating. Mrs. Cox died last Wednesday at the home of a son in Los Angeles, where she had lived for the past year. The Woman's Relief corps held impressive services at the grave.

JUDGE DENIES DISMISSAL OF BURNS CHARGES

Attempt to secure a dismissal of an indictment charging Carl Burns, member of a prominent Santa Ana family, with grand theft, failed yesterday when Superior Judge James L. Allen overruled the motion for dismissal made last week by O. A. Jacobs, attorney for Burns.

Jacobs sought dismissal of the indictment on the grounds that the district attorney had not brought Burns into court for arraignment within 60 days after issuance of the indictment. Burns arraignment was continued until next Friday.

Jacobs declared that, being confined in the county jail in Los Angeles, Burns was available for arraignment upon a court order. The indictment was returned against Burns in November of last year and a bench warrant issued for him a short time ago. Jacobs pointed out that deputy sheriffs from Orange county had placed a "hold" order on him in the Los Angeles jail.

Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman opposed the granting of the dismissal motion on the grounds that the defendant was not within the jurisdiction of the court.

Newport Jobless Plan Association

With T. A. Broderick, chairman of the Unemployed association of Santa Ana presiding, a group of unemployed of the Newport harbor district met last night at the home of Miss Helen Coffin at Thirty-seventh place and Coast boulevard in Newport Beach to discuss the organization of an association patterned after the local organization.

Another meeting will be held next week for the purpose of electing officers and adopting a constitution and by-laws.

Present last evening were F. M. Holt, B. O. Wells, G. H. Wells, W. B. Sweeten, J. P. Searles, S. Roche, E. Armstrong, J. Meyers, Mrs. Ruby Brooks, O. O. Brooks, Harriet K. Coffin and Helen L. Coffin.

DEMOCRATS TO NOMINATE TONIGHT; NEW PLATFORM SUPPORTS PROHIBITION

Opening in a truly Democratic manner, the mock national convention of the party being held in the Santa Ana High school auditorium as a benefit for the unemployed, was forced to end its first session last night after having accomplished little more than organization and adoption of a platform. Nomination of a presidential candidate is scheduled for tonight, which is expected to be the "hottest" part of the convention. No admission is charged, but a silver offering is taken at the door. Sessions will be re-convened at 7:30 p. m. today.

With minor clashes marking the opening sessions of the convention the first heavy barrage was centered on the majority report submitted by the committee on credentials seeking to deny Clyde Downing of the Illinois delegation and Harry Westover, chairman of the Arizona delegation, seats in the convention on the grounds that when elected as delegates to the convention they were registered under the Republican banner.

The majority report was presented by B. Z. McKinney as chairman of the credentials committee but was defeated in a brief but strenuous tilt when D. G. Wettlin, leader of the California delegation submitted a report for the minority demanding that the challenged delegates be given seats. The minority forces carried the battle to the floor of the convention and were successful.

Head Sounds Keynote The speakers' clash followed the report of the Platform committee following the keynote address by H. C. Head who had been unanimously elected temporary chairman.

In his speech Head warned the delegates that they should approach their task with contrite hearts realizing the duty imposed upon them in adoption of a party platform and nomination of a candidate to carry the Bourbon banner in the campaign for president.

"Millions of people," he said, "are looking to you for relief from their poverty and distress into which they have been thrust during the past three years."

He flayed the administration for plunging the nation into depression and compared Hoover plans for relief which he said would provide billions, through the Reconstruction Finance corporation, and the relief of railroads and banks, with the Democratic relief plan demanding a bond issue to be used in public works to provide employment.

He drew a fine line of distinction between the parties by declaring that the Democrats are demanding that the people be considered while the administration is looking out for the wealthy. Head warned against a long plunge or the repeal of modification of the eighteenth amendment, but as long as the eighteenth amendment is a law it should be observed as such; if the Republic is to endure.

The convention was opened with the Rev. C. M. Aker, pastor of the Spurgeon Memorial church delivering the invocation. The delegates were welcomed to the city by Mayor Paul Witmer. Music was furnished by the J. L. Mathews orchestra.

Judge John Mitchell presided during the opening of the convention and Robert Speed of California was elected reading secretary for the entire session.

Tax Reduction to Be Discussed for Anaheim Center

Speaking before the Anaheim farm center at a meeting to be held at the Anaheim union high school at 7:30 next Tuesday evening, R. D. Flaherty, secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau will discuss the question "Shall We Relieve Property of Its Present Heavy Tax Burden?" according to an announcement today by Donald Pannier, president of the Anaheim farm center.

D. W. Tubbs, a member of the Orange county agricultural commissioner's staff, will also deliver an address on "Past Control."

Speeders Fined By Judge Swayze

ORANGE, June 11.—Six motorists were fined yesterday in the court of Judge A. W. Swayze. Ted Grey, of Perris, arrested by State Traffic Officer John Turton, was given a fine of $10; Ed Stinson Jr., of Orange, was fined $10 for exceeding the speed limit on East Chapman avenue. He was given a traffic citation by W. J. Winslow, T. Reyes, of El Modena, was given a $3 fine for driving a car without license plates. Mrs. F. E. Hollander, wife of an army officer at San Diego, was given a fine of $10 for speeding in Santa Ana canyon. Marion Wright, of Fullerton, was fined $5 on a speeding charge and Joe Overland drew a $10 fine on a speeding charge.

DECISION ON CHEST BUDGET IS DELAYED

Pending the return next Monday of Mrs. D. R. McMillan, secretary of the Santa Ana Community Chest, from her vacation, no action has been taken on budgets submitted by organizations expecting to participate in the Chest campaign this year, it was revealed today by William Tway, president of the chest board of directors.

The extent of the Chest campaign, which will probably be held late in October, is also in abeyance until Chest directors learn how much ground the organization will be expected to cover in the city's welfare program. Determination of this question is dependent upon whether or not there will be a unified effort to raise funds for unemployed and general relief. Chest directors want to know whether unemployed relief will be taken care of by some other agency, possibly the city government or an organization of the unemployed, or whether the Chest will be expected to provide for this kind of relief in addition to its regular program.

The matter of budgets and extent of chest activities for the next year will be discussed at a meeting of the board of directors late next week, it was indicated.

JUDAH, A TRUE BROTHER

Text: Gen. 44:18-34
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 12.

BY WM. E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of The Congregationalist

No man's character is to be judged by any one event in his career, nor even by any portion of his life taken by itself—that is, unless some distinct change of outlook and character gives striking evidence of some newness of life, and indicates that the real man is to be judged by the richest and best experience that has happened to him.

The record that we have of Judah is not all favorable. It was Judah who was responsible for selling Joseph into slavery, though Judah is credited with a partially good motive at the time.

It may be remembered that when Joseph's brethren were conspiring to kill him, Reuben made the suggestion that instead of shedding blood they should cast him into a pit—it being Reuben's better purpose to come afterwards and release him from the pit. The brothers accepted Reuben's suggestion.

But before Reuben had an opportunity to make good his purpose a caravan of Midianites loomed on the horizon, and Judah made the proposal that instead of leaving Joseph in the pit they should sell him to the Midianites.

On the assumption in Judah's mind that Joseph would have perished if left in the pit, it was, perhaps, the proposal of a man who meant well. His argument had been "he is our brother and our flesh," though to sell a brother into slavery was not a particularly benevolent or brotherly thing.

Here, however, years after the selling of Joseph, Judah appears in a much better light. Again it is a question of a brother's interest and a father's love and anxiety.

Joseph, to test his brethren, had insisted that they must bring down the youngest brother, Benjamin, before they could receive any more food in Egypt; and Jacob, gravely distressed, had finally consented that Benjamin should go. But now a serious thing had arisen. When the brothers had left with full sacks on the return journey, Joseph had arranged to have his steward slip his silver cup and the money paid for the corn in the mouth of Benjamin's sack.

And then, after the party had gone, he sent his steward after them, to accuse them of the theft of the cup. It was a most damaging situation when the cup was found in Benjamin's sack. Judah immediately made a stirring appeal, but Joseph insisted that the only condition upon which the brothers might return was that Benjamin should remain.

It is under these circumstances that Judah makes the plea recorded in our lesson. There is a quality about the plea that speaks well for Judah's character. There is no selfish note from beginning to end.

He is thinking of the misery and the stricken condition of his father when he finds that in addition to the loss of his son in former days he has now lost, also, street, Los Angeles, always open for your service.

And then, after the party had gone, he sent his steward after them, to accuse them of the theft of the cup. It was a most damaging situation when the cup was found in Benjamin's sack. Judah immediately made a stirring appeal, but Joseph insisted that the only condition upon which the brothers might return was that Benjamin should remain.

It is under these circumstances that Judah makes the plea recorded in our lesson. There is a quality about the plea that speaks well for Judah's character. There is no selfish note from beginning to end.

He is thinking of the misery and the stricken condition of his father when he finds that in addition to the loss of his son in former days he has now lost, also, street, Los Angeles, always open for your service.

Films To Show Bow And Arrow Fishing Methods

NEWPORT BEACH, June 11.—Sports fishing in Newport-Balboa waters with kayak and bow and arrow may become one of the pastimes of beach residents and visitors, according to Charles Plummer, former lifeguard and at present conductor of a swimming school here. Plummer, who has traveled extensively, got the kayak idea from the Alaska Indians, he states, modernizing the vessel somewhat for use in these waters. The Indians' kayak is a skin covered affair weighing 75 to 80 pounds, but the boat used by Plummer and his associates is covered with canvas and weighs only around 50 to 60 pounds. One can make a speed of nine miles an hour in one of these boats and they are so quiet that frequently the boatmen will glide upon unwary fish, even occasionally a drowsing swordfish, before they are aware of his presence.

Plans are under way Plummer states, for the making of moving pictures showing how the kayakers are manipulated and showing a man using the bow and arrow method of catching fish. The arrows are rigged up somewhat after the fashion of a harpoon, the arrow having a steel head and having a light line to the other end for bringing the quarry in.

"WITHOUT THIS OUR AGE FAILS."

Mt. 23: 23. "Ye pay tithes of mint and anise and cummin and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy and faith."

Could anything be more futile? The age in which Jesus lived cried out for farsighted and courageous speaking and action but this man failed to adjust himself to it creatively. The nation was torn apart by feuds, stabbings and assassinations. It was headed as we now see towards a frightful end in which the grandson of this very man was to die a horrible death in war and his younger grandchildren of starvation, but this type of citizen made only the feeblest efforts to reform it. He moved in a little groove; he had a pretty garden which he evidently loved and in which he grew mint and anise seed for women to cook with; but he left far more vital things untouched. The land seethed with unrest but he never thought about trying to bring an intelligent understanding or fair compromise between the factions. The farmers in the rural villages muttered in anger under heavy loads, but he hardly heard them. Thousands of people craved something to lift them out of uncertainty, cynicism and broken heartedness, but he had little desire and less idea about giving them the living faith. Jesus, who always saw realities, said, perhaps with twinkling eyes, that such a man was "undutiful", a word perhaps nearer his meaning than "hypocrite". Life is not for mint but for mercy, not for anise seed but for justice; not for cummin, but for faithfulness. Probably he meant to remind his age of Micah's statement, "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justice and love mercy and walk humbly with thy God?" The weightier, judgment, mercy, faith, are what gives to life value, a religion which bids it do that which abides.

Dena Inge, in his "Christian Ethics and Modern Problems" agrees that the great contribution of the Christian religion to human life is guidance of conduct: "The storm center today is the relation of the Gospel of Christ to problems of conduct. If the authority of Christ were rejected in this field, what would be left of Christianity would not be worth quarreling about." Wherever human life has been close to Jesus it has weighted heavily its appreciation of justice, mercy and faith. These things are both the heart of religion and the heart of life itself.

Often we Americans think of religion as an emotional glow which makes a man's inner life pure but leaves him ignorant of or unconcerned about the social implications of his faith. Repentance has been the vital experience of great souls; but Christian repentance surely has something to do with resolving not to share in race prejudice and contempt for other races, with striving earnestly to keep the national governments of the world from showing race hate; with keeping one's economic group from class injustice or class hate; with shame for some of the things we tolerated in the last war. I once asked a young man to make a speech in church about the difference which Christianity makes in one's way of living. He made an impassioned and sincere address. He said: "It makes three differences: A Christian prays differently, and reads his Bible differently, and gives differently." He said nothing about any duty to put war out of the picture or to socialize industry. "These things ought ye to have done and not to have left the other undone." We are to begin to put the best we are, with all our brains and force, into building the Kingdom. Christian experience of the "new birth" is far more vital, interesting, adventurous and searching than ninety per cent of us have ever thought.

Dr. W. P. Merrill of New York tells of a meeting where a speaker made the familiar statement that if there is another war the church would be to blame. The next speaker said to him, "To what church do you belong?" The first one admitted that he did not belong to any, and the second cried, "Well, I call that passing the buck!"

Young people are not slow to understand that the future of the human race requires not only splendid school buildings, well organized athletics, finely executed dramas, but also earnest groups of people who may not even have a building at all, but who are a "mind-forming society" purposing to bring to the deep moral needs of the whole world the respect for every human personality and the faith in God which belong to the way of Jesus.

Mt. 23: 23. "Ye pay tithes of mint and anise and cummin and have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy and faith."

First Presbyterian Church, 145 Commonwealth Avenue, Fullerton, Calif.

"Rise up, O men of God:
The church for you doth wait,
Her strength unequal to the task;
Rise up and make her great".

Not for the church's sake, but for mankind's.

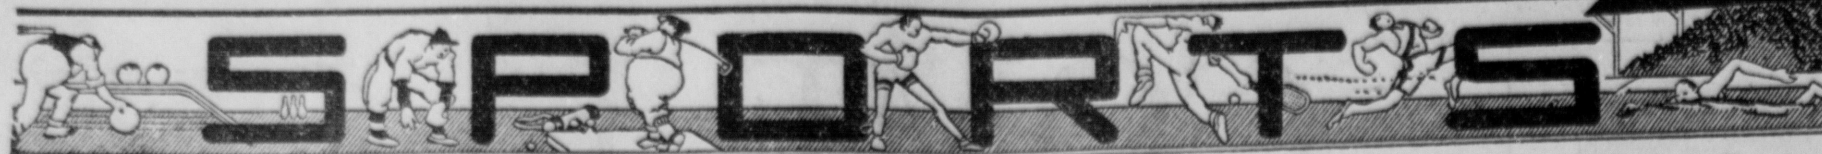

The social implications of religion center in individual loyalty, love, suffering. A crucial story in the life of Gandhi is about his father's suffering when the boy came to him admitting having done wrong. The boy heard no rebuke; but, far worse, saw his father in anguish, and he says that the father's tears were like pearls. They helped teach him the non-violence, forgiveness and charitableness even of thought, the spirit of "ahimsa", which have been his strength in conflict.

A missionary back from a difficult field said to someone who spoke of his heroic work and his sacrifices, "There is nothing heroic or sacrificial about it. I enjoy it and am having the time of my life."

U.S. Women Win Wightman Cup

HELEN MOODY'S TRIUMPH GIVES TEAM 4-3 EDGE

WIMBLEDON, Eng., June 11.—(UP)—The United States won the Wightman Cup Tennis competition with Great Britain for the sixth time in 10 years today when Mrs. Helen Wills Moody of California defeated Miss Dorothy Round, 6-2, 6-3.

Mrs. Moody's victory, coupled with the United States' clean sweep of yesterday's three matches, gave America the four points necessary for victory. Today's other three matches, therefore, were nothing more than exhibitions. Great Britain won them all.

Great Britain scored its first victory when Eileen Bennett Whittingstall defeated Miss Helen Jacobs of California, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1. The Englishwoman played patchy tennis from the deep court, but was brilliant at the net, where she stayed most of the time. Miss Jacobs rallied in the second set to score repeatedly with her chop shots. But the Californian wilted in the final set and Mrs. Whittingstall scored at will.

Great Britain scored a second victory when Mrs. M. R. King, the former Phyllis Mudford, defeated Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper of California, 3-6, 6-2, 6-1. Mrs. King scored over Mrs. Harper by hitting the ball so hard the Californian matron could not handle it.

Miss Nuthall and Mrs. Moody still defeated Mrs. Moody and Miss Palfrey in doubles, 6-1, 1-6, 10-8.

Mrs. Moody never was extended in trouncing Miss Round. The Californian elected to stay at the baseline and simply outstayed the hard-hitting but inaccurate little English Sunday school teacher. There were several long rallies in the match, but invariably it was Mrs. Moody who brought it to a close.

Mrs. Moody proved that the blistered feet which troubled her in the French championships have recovered by occasionally dashing into the net to earn points with sharply angled volleys or hard overhead smashes.

Tommy Paul signed for L. A. title go

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—(UP)—Tommy Paul, featherweight champion, now training to meet Fidel La Barba at the Olympic auditorium next Tuesday, has been signed to defend his title here for $25,000 and $1000 for training expenses, it was announced today.

His opponent has not been selected, but efforts will be made to match him with "Baby" Arizmendi of Mexico, should Arizmendi survive his return bout with Newsboy Brown June 21.

Arizmendi is under a doctor's care as the result of a severe cold which has settled on his chest. It is possible the rematch with Brown may be cancelled because of this illness.

U. S. Coaches To Meet In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, June 11.—Southern California will be host to the nation's leading coaches from July 29 to August 8 when members of the American Football Coaches' association will be here for their mid-summer convention and for the Olympic Games.

Willis O. Hunter, director of athletics at the University of Southern California and chairman of the Pacific Coast committee in charge of the convention, announced today that the Coaches' association will have its business sessions July 29 at the Huntington hotel, Pasadena.

NATIONAL NIGHT LEAGUE

University of Pennsylvania and Coach Lawson Robertson who have sent probably as many track and field athletes to Olympic fame as any similar combination, advance LeMoine Boyle as a candidate for the United States squad in the running broad jump. The Pennsylvania senior, on his good form of the past two seasons, will make the team with ease.

Boyle is one of Uncle Sam's rather scarce 25-foot broad jumpers. He has leaped that distance no less than six times in his two varsity campaigns at Pennsylvania. Assuming that Japan's Mikio Oda will uncork another of his world record leaps of 26 feet or better, Boyle stands an excellent chance of finishing high among the runners.

Boyle earned himself an enviable interscholastic reputation in athletics at Rockford, Ill., his home. He is now a senior in the Wharton school at Pennsylvania, and, following his graduation and the international games at Los Angeles, he will enter the world of commerce and finance.

In two successive years Boyle was runnerup in the broad jump of the I. C. 4-A outdoor championships at Harvard stadium in 1930. He was beaten by Arnold West, Stanford jumper, whose winning leap measured 24 feet 7 inches. Last year at Franklin field, Philadelphia, Boyle bettered the intercollegiate record by one inch with a hop of 25 feet 14 inches in the qualifying trials. In the finals, Dick Barber of Southern California led loose a leap of 25 feet 3 3/4 inches and once again Boyle had to accept a second place.

He gets his final chance at the intercollegiate championship at Berkeley in July.

OLIVE HAS 4-2 EDGE ON HUNTINGTON BEACH

Single runs in the seventh and eighth gave Olive a 4-2 decision over Huntington Beach at Huntington Beach in a contest notable for the fact that the Oilers had only two assists.

Olive started the scoring in the second when Gunther walked and Carpenter tripled, scoring Gunther. Carpenter tallied on a wild pitch.

Huntington Beach tied it in the fifth on Elliott's single and Les Fulson's homer to right-center.

Olive got one in the seventh when Hatfield walked, went to third when Elliott booted Gunther's grounder, tallied on a wild pitch.

Sheldon's triple and Griffith's double made it 4-2 in the eighth.

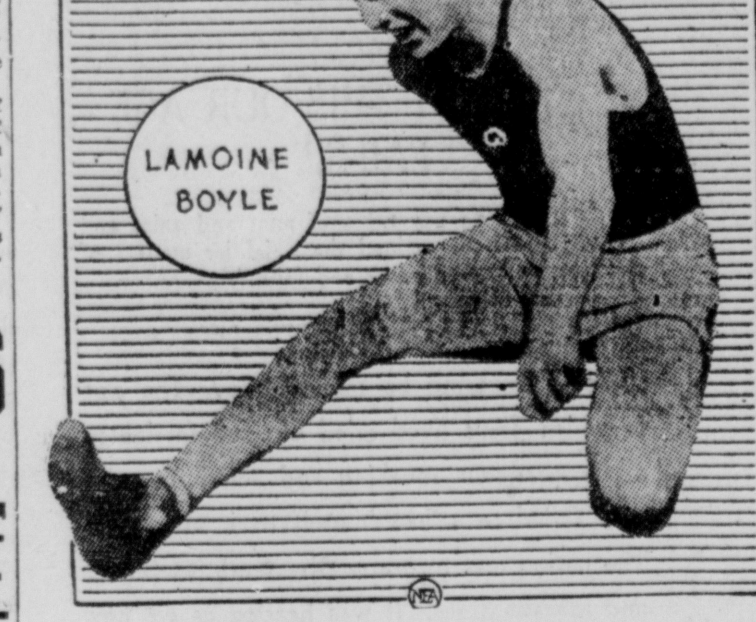

LONG BEACH ENDS LOSING STREAK OVER POETS

Breaking a losing streak of seven straight games, Long Beach checked in with an 11-4 win over Whittier at Long Beach. It was the second National league victory of the 1932 race for the Acorns and marked the second time Long Beach has taken the Poets in stride.

Last night's affair resembled a slugfest in that Long Beach rode Harold Stuffer for 16 hits. "Fuzzy" Downer, hurling his fourth game this week, pitched shutout ball until the ninth, letting down to allow the invaders four runs on seven singles, four of the scratch variety. Assuming that Japan's Mikio Oda will uncork another of his world record leaps of 26 feet or better, Boyle stands an excellent chance of finishing high among the runners.

Boyle earned himself an enviable interscholastic reputation in athletics at Rockford, Ill., his home. He is now a senior in the Wharton school at Pennsylvania, and, following his graduation and the international games at Los Angeles, he will enter the world of commerce and finance.

In two successive years Boyle was runnerup in the broad jump of the I. C. 4-A outdoor championships at Harvard stadium in 1930. He was beaten by Arnold West, Stanford jumper, whose winning leap measured 24 feet 7 inches. Last year at Franklin field, Philadelphia, Boyle bettered the intercollegiate record by one inch with a hop of 25 feet 14 inches in the qualifying trials. In the finals, Dick Barber of Southern California led loose a leap of 25 feet 3 3/4 inches and once again Boyle had to accept a second place.

He gets his final chance at the intercollegiate championship at Berkeley in July.

OLIVE HAS 4-2 EDGE ON HUNTINGTON BEACH

Single runs in the seventh and eighth gave Olive a 4-2 decision over Huntington Beach at Huntington Beach in a contest notable for the fact that the Oilers had only two assists.

Olive started the scoring in the second when Gunther walked and Carpenter tripled, scoring Gunther. Carpenter tallied on a wild pitch.

Huntington Beach tied it in the fifth on Elliott's single and Les Fulson's homer to right-center.

Olive got one in the seventh when Hatfield walked, went to third when Elliott booted Gunther's grounder, tallied on a wild pitch.

Sheldon's triple and Griffith's double made it 4-2 in the eighth.

LONG BEACH ENDS LOSING STREAK OVER POETS

Breaking a losing streak of seven straight games, Long Beach checked in with an 11-4 win over Whittier at Long Beach. It was the second National league victory of the 1932 race for the Acorns and marked the second time Long Beach has taken the Poets in stride.

Last night's affair resembled a slugfest in that Long Beach rode Harold Stuffer for 16 hits. "Fuzzy" Downer, hurling his fourth game this week, pitched shutout ball until the ninth, letting down to allow the invaders four runs on seven singles, four of the scratch variety. Every Acorn player bagged at

WESTMINSTER 4-1 VICTIM IN HURLERS' DUEL

Santa Ana today topped the National Night league by four full games, with only four more to be played during the first half of the split season. The Stars now can lose all four of 'em—Long Beach, Olive, Anaheim and Whittier—and still get no worse than a tie for first place.

George Lackey's lackey got that way at the Bowl last night by rubbing out Westminster, 4 to 1, while Long Beach was beating Whittier for the second time this year, 11 to 4. Long Beach has won only two games, both from Whittier.

Santa Ana had to work at top speed to handle Westminster. The Aviators are one of the smoothest numbers in the division when Earl youthful-looking veteran has had Morrill has his "junk," and the his stuff every time he has gone to the post this year but once.

Ira DeBusk, who came here in the trade that transferred Morrill from a Santa Ana to a Westminster unit, beat Morrill in a dandy slinging duel that was in doubt until Santa Ana stepped out in the ninth inning and scored a couple of runs to bolster its skinny 2-1 margin. DeBusk shaded Morrill in the duel, but there wasn't much to choose between them at that.

Ballard Makes Great Catch Rod Ballard, Santa Ana's great center-fielder, saved DeBusk considerable worry in the eighth when, with the score 2-1, he unquestionably robbed Ed Starkey, Westminster outfielder, of a cure-free home run.

Starkey was first up in the period, and propelled a vicious drive that was headed for the tall unit. Ballard, one of those long-legged fellows whose speed is deceiving and who judges drives so well that he is under way at the crack of the bat, raced over into deep right-center and nailed the drive with his gloved hand extended at full length. It was the season's most spectacular fielding play and one that richly deserved the roar of applause accorded Ballard when he came to the Stars' dugout at the end of the inning.

The last time Morrill pitched against Santa Ana he didn't allow a run until two were gone in the last of the ninth. Last night, the first man to face him scored. Leavitt Daley singled sharply to center, and ran all the way home when Starkey let the drive get away from him.

PREBLE MAKES SCORE 2-0 Santa Ana made it 2-0 in the second. George Preble led off with a single to center, went to second on Wilcox's sacrifice which Morrill booted, to third after Star-

A great deal of comment has followed the decision of Will Harridge, president of the American league, in the Moriarty-White Sox brawl. The facts seem to be that Moriarty was ganged by several of the Sox after he had challenged them all under the grandstand after a game at Cleveland, and after he had knocked Pitcher Milt Gaston for a loop.

The decision was: for Gaston, $500 fine and 10 days; for Moriarty, $500 fine, and for Catcher Charley Berry, $250 fine, and for Catcher Frank Grube, $100 fine. The umpire was reprimanded.

REFER TO BAN

Nearly all the comment goes back to "what Ban Johnson" would have done in similar circumstances. Mr. Johnson was a great one for "standing back" or "ummping authority. Johnson's umpires were cars on the ball field. Ban made their word supreme, and in any case involving player and umpire, the player got the worst of it.

Ban Johnson probably would have demanded removal of Fonseca as manager. The others probably would have been suspended from 30 to 90 days and fined their season's salaries, or something like that.

TOO FAR BACK

The criticism is that Mr. Harridge, in meting out light rebukes to the players and the reprimand to Moriarty, is standing a little too far back of his umpires, and that his decision betrays their authority. Seeing what the White Sox got away with, players will be tempted to take liberties with the arbiters in the future, knowing it won't cost much.

An umpire, of course, should have authority. Players are supposed to abide by his decisions. Players must be given to understand they are to honor and obey, if not to love, their arbiters. In cases where they do not honor and obey the man, the umpire has power to order them off the field and to fine them for conduct unbecoming gentlemen and ball players.

HIS OWN BEST AUTHORITY

Mr. Moriarty did not choose to exercise the authority designated. He depended on his own authority, the good old Moriarty maul.

In the game after which the brawl occurred, Moriarty had several chances to chase Catcher Charley Berry. But he did not resort to his vested authority. Instead he "rode" Berry verbally. And not only Berry, but other White Sox players who chose to argue with him.

After the game he tarried.

GENE SARAZEN? DRIVING NAILS AIDED HIS GOLF

By HENRY McEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 11.—(UP)—What about this Gene Sarazen, the little sun-scorched runt who just nailed the British Open? What manner of man is this guy who knocks off the Emperor Jones' record just like that? Well, pals, this is all I know about him:

He was born Eugene Saraceni, but switched it to his present moniker just as soon as he found out what a time people had giving off that Saraceni business. Has had a horse named after him. Started caddyding just as soon as he could lift a golf bag and distinguish between a maul and a brassie.

No great scholar. Got as far as the eighth grade and then desisted. Geography, spelling and arithmetic for to make a living of his own.

Tried to Enlist

When war broke out he tried to enlist but was told he wasn't tried behind the ears. So he got to help building government buildings.

Quit carpentering to work in an ammunition factory. Worked at that until he got a cold which developed into something worse. Then the doctors told him to get out in the fresh air and sunshine and stay there. He headed for Florida. Managed to get a job at the Wayne County Golf club mauling irons and drivers. Some of the members happened to see him hit a few, and soon he was teaching them what he knew.

He's married. The first thing he said after winning the title yesterday was, "Gee, I wish my wife was here to get a peek at that cup." No children. Always afraid he'll get fat. Always on a diet.

Ask him his favorite dish and he'll answer, "spaghetti—and more spaghetti." His second favorite is chicken. Show him liver and he'll throw it at you.

Likes liquor in moderate amounts, but lays off it in this country. Goes to a speakeasy, however, soon as possible after landing in these United States. Maybe the stuff's better.

Smokes nothing but cigars. Nervous as a cat, especially during a big tournament, when he's lucky to get four hours sleep. Particular about his clothes. Spends hours with tailors, prefers grays and browns. Does on sweaters.

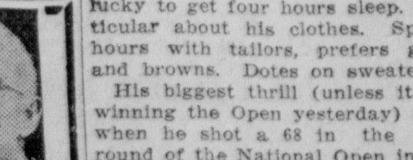

His biggest thrill (unless it was winning the Open yesterday) came when he shot a 63 in the final round of the National Open in 1922 to lead Bob Jones and John Black by one stroke.

350 Attend Annual Chamber-Center Picnic At Park

FARM BUREAU WORK OUTLINED BY JOHN CRILL

ORANGE, June 11.—A program of talks and music formed the principal entertainment at the annual picnic of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, the Foothill Farm center and the West Orange Farm center last night, when members of three organizations and their families met at Irvine park. About 350 were present.

Roy Edwards was master of ceremonies and he introduced the speakers, John Crill, president of the Orange County Farm Bureau, Judge F. C. Drumm, James Irvine, Jr., O. B. Gunther, president of the Foothill Farm center; Joe Witt, president of the West Orange Farm center, and Judge L. F. Coburn, first president of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce, who took the place of Stanley V. Mansur, president of the organization, in extending the welcome to those present. Mr. Irvine was the first speaker and he expressed his gratification to see so many people appreciative of the park and picnic grounds.

Mr. Irvine said that at the time he presented the county with the park grounds oak wood was bringing a high price and everyone wanted to chop out wood. With a view of saving the lovely trees on the park site, Irvine said, he had given the grounds to the county.

Judge Coburn in extending greetings to those present, said that as he looked about, it was hard to realize that there were such things as a depression.

"They say we are on the verge of rebellion against conditions," the judge said. "But we can take care of the unemployed, we can take care of the veterans. We only need confidence. When the metropolitan water is distributed in Orange county, we will be sitting on top of the world."

Sallie and Dorothy Coe, talented daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Coe, gave a group of songs and dances. Vocal numbers were given by D. Lyman Harpster, of Anaheim, with Miss Mabel Moulton as his accompanist.

Judge Drumm gave a humorous talk with serious sidelights in which he emphasized the fact that success in life is not dependent on the amount of money that is made but that it consists of standing in the community, friendship and happy home relations.

"Many persons," the speaker said, "have great expectations for their boys and girls and want them to reach the summit of the work they have chosen. Persons reach the summit when they have the right contacts and the things which make life worth living."

John Crill gave a comprehensive report and history of the farm bureau movement. He declared that he believed that the name of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce was a most happy choice. The farm bureau movement began, he said, in Broome county, New York, in 1912 and at the present time there are 15,000 centers in 44 states with 1,050,000 members.

Other farm organizations are the Grange with 800,000 members and the Farmer's union with 300,000 members. He said that the bureau represents a basic industry and that it acts cautiously and not from selfish motives.

The farm bureau encourages co-operation to the "nth degree," the speaker said, and this movement is being emulated by other industries such as the livestock industry. The bureau, he said, is trying to take gambling out of the farmers' commodities.

Crill explained the part the bureau has played in the study of taxes. Taxes are a tremendous study, he said, as he pointed out that the farm bureau had started the movement that taxes should be derived from income as well as from real estate, and that the bureau originated the idea of the reduction of the school budget without impairing the efficiency of the school system.

HOLD CARD PARTY IN FAEBER HOME

ORANGE, June 11.—Members of a card club held an enjoyable meeting this week in the home of Mrs. Margaret Faerber, South Glassell street. During the evening "500" was played, with the result that Mrs. Jane Cawthra scored high and Mrs. Mabel Lee, low. Concluding the affair, the hostesses served appetizing refreshments. Those present were Mrs. Mabel Lee, Mrs. Anna Slater, Mrs. Bell Barnes, Mrs. Florence Merriman, Mrs. Mabel Elliott, Mrs. Gladys McDonald, Mrs. Sarah Taber, Mrs. May Carlson, Mrs. Edith Richards, Mrs. Sarah Gorr, Mrs. Jane Cawthra and the hostesses, Mrs. Faerber.

Mrs. Gorr will be hostess at the next meeting.

Committee For Flag Ceremonies On Next Tuesday

ORANGE, June 11.—Arrangements for observance of Flag day Tuesday are now nearly complete, plans having been made by a committee from the American Legion post and the Elks lodge. Committee members are Lynn Wallace, Earl Hobbs and Roy Perkins. The program will be given at 8 p. m. on the high school athletic field, with practically all of the organizations of the city joining in the ceremonies.

This is the first time Flag day has been observed in this city with an out of door program, according to Lynn Wallace, who is commander of the Orange Legion post. Company I of Orange is to march, music is to be given by a men's quartet and by orchestras and Boy Scout organizations will take part in the program.

Gordon X. Richmond is to be the speaker of the evening and he will choose a patriotic theme for the subject of his short talk.

Benefit Bridge Party Arranged For Next Monday

ORANGE, June 11.—Included in the important affairs of the late club season is the garden party and benefit bridge to be given June 13 at the Raymond McCarthy home. Proceeds from the affair are to be given to unemployed relief.

Play will begin at 3 p. m. and prizes are to be awarded to holders of high and low scores. Refreshments will be served at the close of the card game.

Mrs. F. C. Drumm is the general chairman in charge of the event and reservations may be made with Mrs. N. T. Edwards, Mrs. Raymond McCarthy, Mrs. Irving Goldfeder or Mrs. J. T. McGinnis.

PASTOR TALKS AT EL MODENA SCHOOL AFFAIR

EL MODENA, June 11.—Graduation exercises for the class of 1932 were held at El Modena Thursday evening. There were 13 graduates from the Roosevelt school and one from the Sunshine school. The invocation was given by the Rev. James C. Flisk, pastor of the El Modena Friends church. The Rev. J. Alvin Shirley, pastor of the Trinity Episcopal church in Orange, gave the address to the class. The Rev. Mr. Shirley chose as his subject, the class motto, "Push On, Keep Going."

The program was as follows: Song by the class; class history; Nettie Jewel Stone; class gossip; Ida Parlen; class poem, by Donalda Dollard; class will, Bob Faul; song by the class, "Gipsy Love Song," Victor Herbert; class prophecy, Henrietta Campbell. Trio, "Melody in E," Elouise Smith, violin; Margery Armstrong, flute, and Henrietta Campbell, piano; song by the class, "Bells of St. Mary's," Adams; presentation of diplomas, Donald S. Smiley. Miss Emma Williamson, teacher of the class, is retiring. She has been a teacher in the El Modena school for the past eight years. Superintendent J. D. Hayes, in behalf of the teachers and the school board presented Miss Williamson with a lovely fountain pen.

The graduates were Elouise Smith, Lucia May Skiles, Nettie Jewel Stone, Margaret Walworth, Ida Price, Wilson Paris, Dorothy Krueger, Bob Faul, Donalda Dollard, Eva Collins, Henrietta Campbell, Katherine Baxter, Margery Armstrong and George Atchile.

ORANGE WATER FOR VILLA PARK SOON

VILLA PARK, June 11.—Twenty-six Villa Park families will receive water from the city of Orange about June 18, it is expected by those in charge of laying one-half mile of pipe from the city lines to a point in the Villa Park area. The water is to be pumped into the Villa Park tank on Wanda street.

The tank, which holds 10,000 gallons, will be filled rapidly as the water is taken from it by an automatic device. The city meter has been placed on Collins avenue and each family will be charged double the minimum charge paid by city users.

Christmas Club In Park Picnic

CHILDREN HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC AT IRVINE PARK

ORANGE, June 11.—Children of the Immanuel Lutheran church and members of the church and Sunday school shared a picnic Thursday at Irvine park, about 200 being present. Refreshments were served and the event was in charge of E. T. Pingle, principal of the school; the Rev. A. G. Webbeking, pastor of the church, and the members of the church board, H. J. Hinrichs, Albert Struck and William Braker.

Races and contests provided entertainment for the afternoon and in the 50-yard dash for boys from the sixth to the eighth grades, first place was won by Bobbie Hinrichs, who was presented with a pocket knife. In the 50-yard dash for girls of the same grades, Alice McPherson was declared the winner and she was presented with an attractive compact.

The 40-yard dash for boys and girls of the third to the fifth grades was won by Boyd Braker, who was given a pocket flash light and a linen handkerchief, and for girls by Anna Gentry, who received a handkerchief, case and handkerchiefs. In the 30-yard dash for pupils of the first and second grades, Norman Sprecht, who won first place for boys, received a beach ball, and Helen Webbeking, who was the winner among the girls, received a bottle of perfume and a dainty handkerchief.

One of the most interesting of the events was the races by the smallest children of the Sunday school and in a 20-yard dash, Viva Jean Welch was declared winner and was presented with handkerchiefs and each tiny participant was given a lollipop. A lemon race was then run by the group of youngsters and Vernon Struck was the winner. He was presented with handkerchiefs and each of the group received gum.

Sack races for boys of the third and fourth grades was won by Gilbert Black, who received drawing crayons and a paper weight. Harold Welch, in a sack race for boys of grades from the fifth to the eighth, won first place and a baseball bat.

When girls of the first to the fourth grades staged a tire race, Helen Henry won first place and a doll. In the races for girls of the fifth to the eighth grades,

Leone Sprecher was the winner and she received an attractive scarf. A tug of war was one of the most amusing of the contests and the winners all received gum. Louise Heim and Beatrice Braker made high scores in target practice. Women present staged a tire race and Mrs. A. G. Webbeking, Mrs. W. E. English, Miss Margerita Habener and Miss Leone Wunderlich were the winners and each received a half pound box of bacon. In a tire race for men, the Rev. A. G. Webbeking and Leopold Marks won and were presented with boxes of bacon.

YOUNG PEOPLE PRESENT PLAY AND PROGRAM

ORANGE, June 11.—An evening of varied entertainment was presented last night at the Colonial theater by members of the Young People's department of the Orange Christian church, who gave a play, "Cappy Explains," and a musical program. Proceeds from the affair will be used to send delegates to the young people's conference to be held late in June at Hollywood.

The play, full of humor, was directed by Miss Thelma Dugan, of this city, who is a member of the church. She also took part in the production, having the role of Miss Dorothy Gray, a niece of Mr. and Mrs. John Sterling, two of the leading characters. Jack Rossier took the part of Mr. Sterling, and Miss Leota Ingle, Mrs. Sterling.

Charles Spotts was "Cappy" Collins, who made the explanations during the evening; Miss Rose Marie Wilson was Olga, the Swedish maid; Randall Bivens was Kent Leightman, a young man; Arnold Todd played James Long, an undertaker. Miss Ruby Wagner was Miss Patterson, the nurse; Burton Alloway was the eel, and Henry Miller completed the efficient cast as the detective.

The musical program given was under the direction of Mrs. Leon Des Larzes. Those who took part were members of the Lei trio, directed by Mrs. Clara Hebard of Garden Grove; Erene White, Hazel Frieden, Dorothy Finley, Crystal Hofer and Wayne Hofer. They gave vocal solos and instrumental numbers.

MISSION WORK DISCUSSED BY CHURCH GROUP

ORANGE, June 11.—Mission work in Africa was the interesting program topic for the monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the First Baptist church held yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ralph Welch, 2607 West Chapman avenue. About 20 members were present.

In the absence of the program chairman, Mrs. Hasty, Mrs. H. P. Sheerer conducted the program. She told of the mission work being done in Africa and of the activities of various missionaries. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Pearson, formerly of Orange, were among those mentioned. Mrs. Sheerer told of one girl who gave her life to the mission work the same time that Mrs. Sheerer took over her religious activities.

Mrs. Horace Newman, the vice president, presided over the business session in the absence of the president, Mrs. Ida Linnell. As Mrs. Newman resigned as vice president, Mrs. Welch was named to take her place.

Reports were given by Mrs. William Gribble, the Americanization chairman, who told of her work in El Modena with the Mexicans, and Mrs. Sheerer, who discussed White Cross work. Articles which have been prepared by women of the church, who devote one day a week to White Cross work, must be sent to Los Angeles by June 27 and will be sent from headquarters there to the foreign lands.

The next meeting will be held in Santa Ana, with Mrs. James McClure as hostess.

MISS LOMBARD AND MORRIS IN PROBLEM PLAY

She was young—and Beautiful! She loved the image in her mirror. And eyes—men's eyes—hungry eyes searched her face and her figure. Why was she so lovely, born poor, when others—many others her own age—walked down Wealthy Avenue, were plain of face and trite of figure—yet rich? And style—she had it and the manner too. She knew she wore her $9.98 as though it were a Paris creation. And Shaw's jewelry—on her—always looked right and real. She was eager to sip of life from a champagne goblet—and meant to do it, too. She was willing to turn her back on honest marriage for a career with wealth and phony love. She put a price on love—staked her happiness on wealth—and lost. Such is Carole Lombard in "Sinners in the Sun"—a swift, spectacular story of the problems, longings and temptations of an attractive working girl—a girl who thought she could follow the dictates of her mind, instead of her heart.

NEXT AT FOX WEST COAST

FOX BROADWAY TO PLAY VIVID DRAMA 5 DAYS

Phillips Holmes, Walter Huston, Anita Page, Lewis Stone and Jean Hershold head the impressive cast of "Night Court," which begins a five-day engagement at the Fox Broadway theater Sunday. Filmed under the direction of W. S. Van Dyke, this picture offers one of the most sensational stories of political corruption ever presented on the screen. It focuses its attention on a magistrate who uses his office to further his activities in the underworld.

Huston plays the unscrupulous jurist who presents a respectable side to the public but shows quite another to his nefarious associates. Holmes is seen as a taxi driver whose home is undermined by the machinations of the crooked magistrate but who ultimately brings the dishonest judge before his own bar of justice. Miss Page enacts the chauffeur's wife who is "framed" on a morals charge and sent to prison to seal her lips from judicial investigators.

The story, which is based on recent disclosures of political corruption in courts of law, depicts the web of intrigue and injustice which encircles a young taxi driver and his wife when they unwittingly become involved in the "private life" of a well-known night court magistrate.

Because incriminating evidence of the judge's scandals falls into the hands of the chauffeur's wife, she is railroaded to jail on a trumped-up morals charge. The taxi driver, bent on exposing the judge, discovers the latter's implication in a notorious murder charge and uses this information in forcing a confession from the judge relative to his wife's unjust indictment.

The dramatic material on which the plot is based leaves room for a wide variety of powerful episodes such as the vivid sequence in which the "stool pigeon" forces his entry into the girl's room in order to "frame her"; the gruelling persecution of the taxi driver when he attempts to interfere with court injustice, and the exciting incidents which entangle the crooked judge's ultimate downfall.

SCENE FROM "NIGHT COURT"

Walter Huston and Anita Page are shown below in a scene from "Night Court," the intensely dramatic story of an innocent girl who is framed, beginning a five-day engagement at the Fox Broadway theater Sunday. Phillips Holmes, Lewis Stone, John Miljan, Tully Marshall and Jean Hershold support Huston and Miss Page.

assumes the guilt of his wretched son who has become involved in a murder. In the trial that follows all the evidence points to the father, but the climax furnishes a startling surprise.

Bramwell Fletcher enacts the role of the hysterical, wretched son. Greta Nissen appears as the wicked adventures, Weldon Heyburn as a dashing villain, Helen Mack as the plucky fiancée, and Mary Forbes as the tearful mother. Subordinate roles are portrayed by Herbert Mundin, Billy Bevan, Montague Shaw, Wyndham Standing, Lumsden Hare, Lowden

Adams, Alan Mowbray and Eric Wilton. Mundin and Bevan are entrusted with the comedy roles and, as the facetious cockney taxi driver, Mundin is said to give one of the outstanding performances in the picture.

"The Silent Witness" is an adaptation of the play by Jack DeLeon and Jack Celestin. Douglas Doty prepared it for the screen and the picture was directed by Marcel Varnel and R. L. Hough. Varnel is a former director of Paris more recently with the Shuberts in New York.

MARTIN JOHNSON'S NEW PICTURE READY

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson are now busy supervising the final cutting of "Congorilla," their latest picture, soon to be released by Fox. "Congorilla" is said to be a thrilling depiction of the Johnsons' two-year old safari in the land of the big apes and little people. It is the first sound picture ever to be made in the wilds of Africa, and the first picture that has ever shown the gorilla in his native habitat and the pygmies in their villages in the dense and unexplored Itura Forest.

THREE BEAUTIFUL "BAD GIRLS" REPLACE OLD-FASHIONED MOVIE VAMPS IN SOPHISTICATED ROLES

HOLLYWOOD, June 11.—What has happened to the old-fashioned screen vamp? And, at the same time, one might ask the question regarding the innocent young leading lady.

Both seem to have passed out of the picture at about the same time, to be replaced by our modern leading lady with all the sweetness and charm of a Marguerite Clark combined with the more or less loose morals of a Theda Bara.

Just what brought about this change seems to be a bit uncertain. But one thing is quite definite—the new arrangement apparently followed a new trend as set by real persons, rather than the public at large patterning themselves after reel characters. The day has passed when a man will fall for the obvious gestures of the old-fashioned vamp. Neither is he interested in the naive girlish type. Still, a girl is not considered exactly bad these days even though her morals are a bit loose as long as she is discreet in her actions.

Consequently the Theda Baras, Nazimovas, Barbaras, La Marrs, May Allison, Marguerite Clarks and Lillian Gish have disappeared from the screen.

And in their places we find Greta Garbo, Norma Shearer, Marlene Dietrich, Tallulah Bankhead, Joan Crawford, Constance Bennett, Carole Lombard, Claudette Colbert, Joan Harlow, Karen Morley, Ann Dvorak and others.

Throughout her entire career Garbo has at least touched on the shady side of life. I can't recall a single film in which she portrayed what might be regarded as a good woman. Right at the start we found her drinking the dregs in "The Torrent." And in "Grand Hotel" new life came to her when she found a new lover. During some years on the screen Norma Shearer's success was only mediocre until she came along as the reckless girl in "Divorcee." Since then she has not been riding the crest of the wave. In every film since then—"Strangers May Kiss," "A Free Soul," "Private Lives" and now "Strange Interlude"—she has been ravishing and revealing, almost a torch bearer for the double standard. And the fans have flocked to her camp.

Marlene Dietrich never had a chance to go straight in films in this country. She lost that chance by making such a hit as the "bad" dancer in "Blue Angel," the German made film which resulted in her present contract. Since then she has made "Morocco," "Dishonored" and "Shanghai Express," portraying the same type of character in each.

Perhaps the secret of Tallulah Bankhead's success on the screen can be attributed to the rather loose but still charming women she has portrayed. She has yet to appear in a single production which could be stamped as first class. But with her three poor films she managed to build up a tremendous following.

Joan Crawford started out to be a shady lady in her first film, "Sally, Irene and Mary." However, virtue still was at a premium in those days so Joan met with disaster while the hero and heroine went into the usual clinch in the final reel. However, both the hero and heroine of that picture long since have been forgotten while Joan has gone merrily on her way to dizzy heights.

Connie Bennett is another who has found that it doesn't pay to be good—at least not on the screen. Since her return to films about two years ago Connie has tasted nothing but success. Her slightest wish has been granted. And Connie certainly isn't a goody-goody.

Then there's Joan Harlow. Joan never has had what might be termed an outstanding picture, except "Hell's Angels" in which she had only a minor role. But she always has played a good-bad girl. And she is doing very nicely these days.

And so it goes. Practically the same thing can be said for almost every one of our younger actresses who are getting along these days. Virtue may have been at a premium once—but apparently it slumped along with other leading stocks.

TAKE 'RAIN' SCENES ON CATALINA ISLAND

As soon as the "Rain" company finishes shooting the necessary scene at Catalina Island the same spot, incidentally, where Gloria Swanson made an earlier version of this picture—Fox is sending a company over to use the same location for a picture entitled "After the Rain."

Quiet Ceremony Unites Prominent Couple Of Tustin

Enjoying the early summer beauties of Santa Cruz, Big Basin, Oakland and other points north, the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Nason of Tustin are on their honeymoon trip, having been married at a quiet ceremony Wednesday morning, June 8 at Pasadena.

The attractive young bride was Miss Virginia Forney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Forney, Tustin avenue. She and the Rev. Mr. Nason were wedded by a friend of long standing, the Rev. Roger Sherman, of a Los Angeles Christian Advent church. His home was the setting for the event, which was attended by a little group of relatives.

For the quiet early morning ceremony, Miss Forney had chosen a smart white crepe frock fashioned with short jacquette. Her hat and other accessories also were in white. Contributing a dainty touch of color to her costume was her bridal bouquet of violets with lilies of the valley.

Immediately following the rites the new Mr. and Mrs. Nason went to the home of the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Oliver, in Los Angeles, where they were guests at a charming wedding breakfast. Colorful flowers and other appointments stressed the June bridal motif.

The young people are making their trip by automobile, and on their return in about a week, will welcome their many friends in their home in Tustin. The Rev. Mr. Nason is pastor of the Christian Advent church there, and is the son of Mrs. Ida Nason.

The bride, a member of one of the community's prominent families, is a graduate of Tustin union high school, later attending Santa Ana Junior college. Her husband, a native of Maine, is a graduate of Aurora college, Illinois.

The wedding climaxed a series of lovely parties given for the young couple, who will find a warm welcome awaiting them when they return to this community. Before returning home, they expect to visit with college friends of the pastor.

Enamel Kitchen Ware Given Bride-elect At Gay Party

Mrs. Floriam Eickholt of Anaheim, added another to the list of delightful pre-nuptial courtesies extended Miss Evangeline Wolford, so soon to wed Daniel Jerry of Greenville, by entertaining at a 500 party and kitchen shower Wednesday night in her Anaheim home.

The card games were introduced soon after the arrival of guests, and when scores were tallied at the conclusion of the contest, Miss Wolford, the honoree, held high and received the attractive first prize. Second prize went to Mrs. Charles Hunt, while Miss Gladys McDonald with low score, was consoled.

While card tables were being prepared for the refreshment course Miss Wolford was assigned the pleasant duty of winding up the tangled maze of a ball of twine. This led her through the entire house and into all nooks and corners, and finally rewarded her persistence by leading her to a great stack of gaily wrapped packages. Her friends gathered around her as she unwrapped the gifts and disclosed an assortment of kitchen utensils in ivory and yellow tones.

After the gifts had been admired, places were sought at tables sparkling with pink and white candles rising from petaloid pink holders surrounded by tiny flower wreaths in bridal white. A beautiful pink rosebud decorated the place for Miss Wolford and with it lay a bride's book in which she may record all the delightful things that are being done for her in compliment to her approaching wedding.

The dominant color theme was expressed in the artistically iced cake served with ice cream sundaes and bonbons to the guests who included in addition to hostess and honoree, Mrs. Eickholt and Miss Wolford; Miss Gladys McDonald, Miss Estella Roelands, Miss Mamie Roelands, Mesdames Charles Wolford, Charles Hunt, Otto Eickholt, R. N. Peltzer, Barney Brock, Fred Ricker and Tracy Smakel.

Ebell's Last Program Will Be Devoted To the Arts

The classic allusion to the prophet not without honor save in his own country, is so frequently proven incorrect that there is little or no novelty in citing it when speaking of Ebell society's interesting plans for Monday afternoon's program. For in assembling the work of various young Santa Ana artists, the Music, Art and Drama section of the society is fully aware of the honors which have come to the young people, and is joining with others in lauding them for their accomplishments.

The program of this, the final meeting of the general society before the summer recess, will begin promptly at 2 o'clock in the clubhouse auditorium, where two local musicians of note, Robert Bradford, tenor, and Earl Fraser, piano, will be presented.

Following the program of operatic arias and beautiful songs by the tenor, and contemporary American music by the pianist, members and guests will be given opportunity to see an exhibit of paintings and sculptures to be on display in the section rooms. This special setting was chosen as offering better wall space for paintings than the peacock room or lounge.

Only a few rules dictated the selection of those to be featured in the exhibit. They must have received definite recognition through having had work accepted by the California Art club, Exposition park, or a society or gallery of equal rating, and they must represent the younger generation of those engaged in definite creative work.

Sculpture will be represented by Miss Beulah May, member of California Art club as well as Laguna Beach Art association, and whose work has appeared in various exhibits in the Southland; and by Leonard Baker, who has had his work accepted for Exposition park exhibits. Oils, water colors, block prints, and different expressions of the pictorial art will be offered by Miss Joan Goodwin, Arthur Ames and Robert Gilbert, whose pictures attracted so much interest in a modern art exhibit held here a year ago, and later shown in Los Angeles; Miss Frances Egge, member of the art department at the high school and junior college; Miss Frances Forney, who has been teaching in Florida; Burr Shafer of the California Art club, and Douglas Cummings, who was in the studio of Franz Geritz following his courses at Chouinard Art school, and has had block prints in exhibits through the east as well as in California.

Following a leisurely survey of the exhibit with its opportunity to meet the artists themselves, guests will be served in the patio with Music, Art and Drama section members as hostesses.

Local Girl Completes Course at Teachers' College

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bates, 822 South Sycamore street, and their daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Smith, of Wichita Falls, Tex., spent yesterday Santa Barbara, where they went to attend the graduation of their daughter and sister, Miss Virginia Bates, from Santa Barbara State Teachers' college.

They were accompanied by former residents of this city, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Foodick and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foodick of Hollywood.

Miss Bates, a graduate of Santa Ana high school, has majored in mathematics during her college career. She entered the college as one of the youngest in the class.

Invitations Out for Swanson Wedding

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Swanson of 113 East Oxford street to the wedding of their daughter, Miss Ruth Swanson, who will become the bride of Carl Lykke, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Lykke of 609 North Van Ness avenue, on the evening of Thursday, June 30, at 8 o'clock.

The wedding will have its setting in the Four Square church at Fairview and Sycamore streets.

Both Miss Swanson and her fiancé are well known locally. Miss Swanson being active in music and dramatic circles and Mr. Lykke having business interests in the Santa Ana Cabinet and Picture company. The couple will make their home in this city.

JUNE RIGHTFULLY CONSIDERED AN IMPORTANT MONTH BY THESE REPRESENTATIVE ORANGE COUNTY WOMEN

MISS RUBY STANLEY

When a personality contest was held recently for the co-eds of Fullerton junior college, the girl registering the winning number of votes was Miss Ruby Stanley of Anaheim, secretary of the Associated Student Body of the college. Miss Stanley has taken active part in various organizations and pursuits of the campus, and is especially interested in dramatics. She is affiliated with two campus dramatic organizations, the Nightwalkers and the Delta Psi Omega, junior college honorary dramatic fraternity. Her high scholastic standing is demonstrated by the fact of her membership in Alpha Gamma Sigma, state honor society for those of high scholastic attainments.

MRS. HAZEL SUMMERS

Announcement of the betrothal and imminent wedding date of Mrs. Hazel Summers, prominent in Orange club and social circles, and W. H. Palmer of Joplin, Mo., came as a pleasant surprise to the many friends of the bride-elect throughout Orange county. The marriage will take place Tuesday, June 14, in Yuma, Ariz., and will crown a

MRS. WILLIAM CRAWFORD

The marriage of Miss Emma Hadley, charming blonde daughter of Mrs. Eva Hadley of Newport, to William Reeves Crawford, also of the beach city, was an event of Wednesday, June 8, and the young people are now on their honeymoon. Both are graduates of Santa Ana high school, so announcement of their marriage will be of interest to a host of friends in this city where Mr. Crawford is employed with the Santa Ana Soda works. The date was made known to their friends at a charming party given by Mr. Crawford's aunts, Mrs. James Heaslip and Mrs. W. W. Rogers of Los Angeles, entertaining in the Mrs. J. M. Russell home, Newport Beach.

seem exemplified in the wedding plans of Miss Alice E. Riley, dark-eyed Laguna Beach girl, who on Monday will become the bride of James Marshall Reser of Riverside. For the acquaintance between the young people, began in the carefree summer life of Our Village and has run its romantic course there, to be culminated with the quiet morning rites on Monday. Miss Riley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Riley of Laguna Beach and her fiancé, a student of osteopathy and well-known musician, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Reser of Riverside.

MRS. FAYETTE BLOWER

Wedded on April 23, 1932, in Yuma, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Fayette Blower decided to keep their marriage a secret from all but the immediate members of the two families. Then when friends, assembled recently for a party in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Quiggle, 1114 South Van Ness avenue, Santa Ana, expected to hear an engagement announcement, they learned instead that the honoree was Mrs. Blower instead of Miss Frances

MRS. FAYETTE BLOWER

Quiggle. Wedding details were related to the surprised guests, who learned that Mr. and Mrs. Quiggle and Mrs. Philip Blower had accompanied the young people to Yuma, and were guests at the quiet wedding. Now that they have told their friends of the pretty romance, Mr. and Mrs. Blower have gone to housekeeping at 711-2 South Van Ness avenue, where they are receiving a world of congratulations and good wishes.

MISS EVANGELINE WOLFORD

The date of June 21 has been selected by Miss Evangeline Wolford for her wedding to Daniel Jerry, young Greenville rancher, and the weeks preceding the ceremony, are being made gay with parties and showers by friends of the popular bride-elect. Miss Wolford is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolford and the sister of Detective Sergeant Charles W. Wolford of Santa Ana. She has been a student at Santa Ana junior college following her graduation from Polytechnic high school. Mr. Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jerry of Altin, Minn., and is a graduate of the Altin high school.

MISS ALICE E. RILEY

Prominent Clubwoman Of Orange to Wed Missourian

It is with a world of warm interest that friends of Mrs. Hazel Summers of Orange, have learned details of her marriage to W. H. Palmer of Joplin, Mo., which is to take place Tuesday in Yuma, Arizona.

Mrs. Summers, who is the daughter of Mrs. D. P. Crawford, 261 North Glassell street, Orange, is prominent in various activities of that city. She is active in the Orange Woman's club and holds the office of secretary in the Third Household Economics section of that organization. Parent-Teacher association also claims much of her interest, in addition to various social activities.

Her fiancé, Mr. Palmer, is in the hardware business in Missouri but plans to remain in Southern California as his permanent home.

For Tuesday's ceremony, Mrs. Summers will wear a smart semi-sports costume of blue silk with white dress accessories, and will have gardenias as her floral corsage. Immediately after the rites the happy couple will embark on their Southern California honeymoon, returning later to Orange where they will make their home through part of each year, spending the remaining months at the Imperial Valley ranch of the bride.

Amber Circle Has Last Regular Meeting Of The Season

Although members of Amber Circle expect to have benefit parties during the summer, their last regular luncheon meeting was held Thursday afternoon in the Masonic temple. Suggestive of the coming Olympic games were the red, white and blue decorations used for the affair.

Mrs. W. L. Salsbury was chairman of the committee in charge, and worked with the assistance of Mrs. J. H. Shaw, Mrs. Luella Stewart, Mrs. Katherine Reid, Mrs. Joseph P. Smith, Mrs. Fannie Reeves, Mrs. Mary Pannell,

Newly-Wedded Couple Will Honeymoon in Mountain Cabin

Wedded this morning at 10 o'clock in the chapel of the First Methodist Episcopal church, famous for its many weddings, Mr. and Mrs. Russell O. Hupp departed at once for a Southland honeymoon, pausing only long enough after the rites, to receive the happy wishes of the little group of relatives assembled for the service.

Mrs. Hupp was Mrs. Lucy M. Burns, and she had chosen as her bridal costume, a modish frock of georgette in primrose yellow, worn with short black velvet jacquette and white hat, gloves and shoes. A shoulder corsage of gardenias lent a pretty bridal touch to her appearance, and completing her costume was Mr. Hupp's gift of a diamond-set bracelet.

The Rev. George A. Warner, pastor of the church, read the service in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McGeehee of this city, parents of the bride, and her small son, Master Kenneth Burns, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hupp of Long Beach, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weissman and little daughter Joanne, and Mr. and Mrs. John J. Vernon and little daughter, Betty Louise.

The wedding was the culmination of a pretty romance which began last March, when Mr. and Mrs. Vernon introduced Mr. Hupp, a school friend of Mrs. Vernon's back in South Bend, Ind., to the charming young Santa Ana woman. Mr. Hupp is connected with the Los Angeles Shipbuilding company in Long Beach, and has an attractive home in that city ready to receive his bride when their honeymoon wanderings are ended.

Their plan in leaving this morning, was to spend part of the next two weeks at Mr. Hupp's cabin at Camp Baldy. Master Kenneth Burns is remaining here with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. McGeehee, until their return when he will join them in Long Beach.

Early Morning Nuptial Hour Selected By Young Couple

The picturesque parish house of St. Catherine's church, nestling in the hills at the head of Anita street, Laguna Beach, will be the scene Monday morning at 8 o'clock of the wedding of Miss Alice E. Riley, winner of last summer's bathing beauty contest in the Village, to James Marshall Reser of Riverside.

When the Rev. Father J. I. Lehan, pastor of the church, has pronounced them man and wife it will be the high peak in a romance that began on the beach last summer and continued through the year. Mr. Reser is a student at the Los Angeles College of Osteopathy and plays during the summer months with Penny's orchestra, a Riverside organization, at one of the Village ballrooms. Following their return from a short honeymoon trip, the young couple will live in Laguna Beach until autumn, when they will go to Los Angeles.

Miss Riley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Riley of 316 Magnolia drive, Laguna Beach. She will be attended by her sister, Miss Lucille Riley of Los Angeles, as maid of honor. Mr. Reser, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Reser of Riverside, will have his brother, Dewey Reser, as best man.

Mrs. Griggs Welcomes Chat and Sew Club To Her Home

Deep blue Canterbury bells and the vivid gold of Spanish broom were combined in a striking blue and yellow color effect attained by Mrs. Dale Griggs in embellishing her home at 421 South Flower street, for the latest meeting of the Chat and Sew club. A charming contrasting note was given to the floral arrangement by occasional baskets of roses.

Club members speedily produced their needlework and the evening hours sped to the accompaniment of the two features which give the organization its name.

Late in the evening Mrs. Griggs served an appetizing refreshment course, using individual trays, each with flower garnishment. Her guests included Mesdames Ensey Campbell, James Smith, J. J. Vernon, Carl Pister, J. T. McInnis, Theo. Nail, Earl Wood, Oliver Wickersheim, Harvey Riggle and Madge Moynash of the Chat and Sew membership, and two special guests, Mrs. Fred Nordell (Jeannette Nail) who is here from San Francisco visiting in the home of her brother and sister-in-law, the Theo. Nails, and Mrs. C. A. Griggs.

The next meeting of this friendly group will be on June 21 when Mrs. J. T. McInnis will entertain in her home, 545 South Batavia street, Orange.

Women of the Moose Elect Officers

New officers were elected this week at the meeting of the Women of the Moose held in the Moose hall. Ora Summers was named senior regent.

Others chosen were Esther Heber, junior regent; Noy Arnold, past regent; Eva Spray, chaplain; Della Busch, recorder; Myrtle Underwood, treasurer; Millie West, guide; Eva Vlahos, assistant guide; Mrs. Cashdollar, sentinel; Grace Moranville, argus; Faye Lucas, musician.

Women of the Moose have invited all interested to attend an old-fashioned box supper Tuesday evening, June 14, in the hall. There will be a program and dancing.

For B. P. W.

Abandoning their usual plan to meet for luncheon on Monday in Ketter's gold room, members of the Business and Professional Women's club will have a dinner meeting this coming Monday, to begin promptly at 6:30 o'clock in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe on North Main street.

The reason for this change in routine lies in the fact that the occasion celebrates the annual installation of officers, for which elaborate plans have been made by a committee composed of Mrs. Theo. A. Winbiger, chairman, Miss Justine Whitney, Mrs. Mildred Reinhardt and Mrs. Margaret Elliott. Officers to be installed are Mrs. Adelaide Cochran, president; Mrs. Marie Fowler, first vice president; Miss Mary Garland, second vice president; Mrs. Laura McNaught, secretary; Miss Harriet Whidden, treasurer; Mrs. Myrtle Robinson, sergeant at arms; Mrs. Mildred Reinhardt and Miss Lena Thomas, board members.

Mrs. N. E. Mayhill, past president of the organization, will act as installing officer, and has worked out a striking ceremony for the occasion. Miss Lula Ott, who is retiring after a most successful term of office as president, will conduct the meeting assisted by members of the committee.

A special musical program has been planned in compliment to the incoming officers, with some of the city's favorite artists to be introduced. Miss Ruth Armstrong will be at the piano as accompanist for the soloists, who will include Cecile Fross Willis, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh and Sally Lee Seales. Miss Betty Jo Willis will give variety to the program with her readings. Special interest attaches to the appearance of Mrs. Willis and her talented young daughter on the program, for the president-elect, Mrs. Cochran, is the sister-in-law of Mrs. Willis and the aunt of Miss Betty Jo.

Choral Club Program
Scores Success at
M. E. Church

A gratifying success attended plans of the Dorcas Choral club of First M. E. church for the benefit of the church bazaar, Thursday night in the church basement, for an unusually large crowd gathered for the program, billed as "an old-fashioned county fair."

The fun began at 5 o'clock when arriving patrons enjoyed a waffle supper, with serving continued until 7:30 o'clock when the humorous play, "Comical Country Cousins," was presented. There were all the usual fair delights, and during the supper hours, a band of strutting musicians played steel guitar numbers. The ladies were Glenn Layton, Chester Clark and Elven Klingenberg. An impromptu entertainment was that offered by W. A. Davidson in clown garb, who created amusement throughout the evening.

Those in the cast of the play were Mrs. Grace Finn as "Aunt Ophelia," the boss; and the various "country cousins," and other characters. Mrs. Lols Kent, Mrs. Lou Blackburn, Mrs. N. S. Sebastian, Mrs. Ira Hallman, Mrs. Alma Schwartz, Mrs. H. E. Rothrock, Mrs. Pearl Lazenby, Mrs. Gusie Chibaro, Mrs. Georgia Lewis, Mrs. Oleo Helm, Mrs. Jeanette Smith, Mrs. Ruth Oakes, Miss Agnes Stewart, Mrs. Hazel Turton, Mrs. Marie Clingenburg, Mrs. Dorothy Hayes, Mrs. Grace Long, Miss Grace Grisby, Mrs. Pearl Davidson, Miss Daisy Williams and Mrs. Marie Hayes.

Mrs. W. A. Davidson is president of the Dorcas choral club while other officers are Miss Ruth Oakes, secretary; Miss Daisy Williams, treasurer; Mrs. John Clarkson, dramatic director; Mrs. Fred Lazenby, assistant; Mrs. Harry N. Hayes, musical director; Miss Carrie Seaton, accompanist.

Marriage of Prominent Garden Grove Pair
Solemnized

Before an altar of deep pink gladioluses and fernery, flanked by great baskets of gladioluses, two pioneer families of Garden Grove were united Wednesday evening at an impressively beautiful marriage service as has been conducted in the First Methodist church of that city. The rites joined Miss Margaret Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Day, who have resided in Garden Grove for a score of years, and Floyd Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers, whose family has been resident in that city for three decades.

The church was a spectacle of beauty with its lavender tamarisk blossoms woven into the framework above the choir loft, its altar decorations and its pews end marked with white tulle bows, in which were tied sprays of gladioluses. Candlelight completed the effect. While guests awaited the entrance of the bride and her train, Miss Leah Pemberton of Anaheim sang two numbers, "Until" and "Because," and Mrs. Irving Germain, "I Love You Truly," before Miss Althea Lempe of Orange, organist, sounded the opening chords of Lohengrin's "Wedding March" to the accompaniment of which strains the bride made her appearance.

Elaborate Bridal Train
Preceding her down the aisle were five bridesmaids, attired in chiffon frocks of pastel hues, wearing picture hats and lace mitts, and carrying flowers in harmonizing tints. Mrs. Harry Wighton of Pasadena, cousin of the bride, made a charming matron of honor in her costume of powder blue net over taffeta, set off with pink roses and blue pansies, gathered into a bow. She followed the bride, the bridesmaid who was Miss Ruby Otta, cousin of the groom; Miss Margaret Reinsnyder, Mrs. Willburn Curry and Miss Verna Hall of Los Angeles. Other members of the bridal party were Miss Dorothy Schneider, in bouffant pink orquid, as flower girl; Gwendolyn Hoepfner in yellow orquid, as train bearer, and H. C. Kellogg Jr. as ring bearer.

Ascent to the altar by her father, the bride made a striking picture in her white lace gown and veil of tulle, caught with orange blossoms, her shower bouquet of white gardenias and lilies of the valley lending further enhancement to her costume. Raymond Rogers, formerly of Garden Grove, served as best man, usher being Melvin Rogers of Tulare, John Harkness, San Bernardino, and Richard and Donald Hilly, Los Angeles.

Officiating at the service were the Rev. Dr. Floyd J. Seaman, pastor of the church, and the Rev. W. M. Harkness of San Bernardino, formerly of Garden Grove.

Repairing to the Frank Rogers home at the ceremony's conclusion, relatives and close friends joined members of the bridal party for a reception at which Mrs. Rogers was assisted by Mrs. B. R. Day and Mrs. Mary Doane, assistants in the dining room including Mesdames Fred Scott, Richard Haster and Joseph Hyde, all of Pasadena.

Reappearing in the midst of festivities, the new Mrs. Lloyd Rogers, attired in travelling outfit of blue silk trimmed with white fur, took leave of guests before departing with her husband on a wedding trip which is to take them across the continent to the Atlantic coast on an extended motor journey.

Upon their return they will build a new home in Garden Grove, where Mr. Rogers already has attained prominence as a rancher.

Newlyweds Prominent
Both Mr. and Mrs. Rogers are graduates of the Garden Grove high school and have been active leaders among the young people of the First Methodist church of that community. Mrs. Rogers, who graduated this spring from the business department of the University of Southern California, has been teaching music in Garden Grove since that date. Her husband, whose grandparents' farm is homesteaded in Laguna Beach is the present site of the Laguna Beach Woman's club, has devoted himself to ranching interests since completing his student work in Garden Grove.

Two Birthdays Offer Reason for Pretty Evening Party
The A. W. Walker home at 1326 Logan street, was the scene of one of the week's pleasant parties, when a number of friends were bidden in to celebrate with cards and dancing, the birthdays of the Misses Margaret and Shirley Walker.

Five hundred was the ood game selected by the players, and Miss Dora Walker, scoring high in the contest, was awarded the prize. Attention was then turned to dancing which continued until the late refreshment hour when the inviting menu was served at flower-decorated tables.

In the party were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Walker, the Misses Margaret and Shirley Walker, Ida Mae McWhorter, Vera Levans and Dora Walker, Mrs. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony O'Gero, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rudolph, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Martin, and Messrs. Alvin Reboin, Walter Martin, Herbert Martin, Ben McWhorter, Ben Gilmore and J. Martin.

Miss LeGaye Hostess To Classmates at Theater, Supper
Before debarking for the year, members of the 1932 graduating class of the St. Joseph school, who will sever active connection with the school at commencement exercises to be held Sunday, enjoyed a recent party together when they the guests of one of their number, Miss Marie Theres LeGaye, at a supper given in her home at 121 East Washington avenue.

A gay evening of music followed a theater party, Miss LeGaye escorting her guests to a matinee before accompanying them to her home, where several hours of fun culminated in the summoning of guests to a delightful supper in the dining room.

Table decorations were of such beauty and originality as to elicit the most enthusiastic adjectives from the young people as they entered the dining room to find places at a table adorned entirely in the class colors of gold and rose. A lamp in these shades, ingeniously constructed of crepe paper and supported by eight small gold each flaunting paper costumes of rose and gold, centered a table further enhanced by attractive nut cups of lamp design and of similar coloring. Individual cakes, served with the ice cream, bore the date of the graduation year inscribed in gold and rose. The entire decorative effect was contrived by Mrs. A. F. LeGaye, mother of the young hostess.

Classmates of Miss Marie Theres LeGaye sharing the happy occasion were the Misses Eleanor Baker, Mary E. Heaney, Elizabeth Borchard, Margaret Vardy, Dorine Haupt, Alice Biner, Genevieve Rhines, Messrs. Barney Barnes, Kempton Ferguson, Fred Dierker and Buster Glockner.

Club Leaders of Nation
In Conference at Seattle

Although no Santa Ana women went north to attend the 21st biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which opened a ten day session in Seattle, Wash., Thursday, the conclave, representing a congregation of 3,000 club leaders from all parts of the United States, will be of vital interest to local women as a register of club trends and movements.

Universal interest has been expressed in the announcement that convention proceedings will be broadcast by radio for an hour on Tuesday, beginning at 11:45 o'clock, when Mrs. John F. Sippell, president of the National Federation, will speak, and a musical program will be presented.

Presidential Candidate Calls
Of major significance will be the election of officers, present indications pointing to the unanimous choice of Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole of Brockton, Mass., as president to succeed Mrs. John F. Sippell, retiring leader.

Addresses will revolve in subject about the American home, American citizenship and the education of youth, topics designed to arrest the attention of all delegates and to be of particular significance to the large number of representatives whose individual interests center upon child welfare and sociological problems.

Speakers listed on the program have been chosen for their pre-eminence in their respective fields, thus imposing array including Mrs. Thomas G. Winter of Hollywood, associate director of public relations of the Association of Motion Picture Producers; Mrs. Catherine Coleby, assistant editor of Ladies Home Journal; Miss Marjorie Shuler of the Christian Science Monitor; Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College, at Oakland, and Dr. Estella Ford Warner of the United States Public Health service.

Program Features
Entertainment plans embrace trips Puget sound; 30 state dinners, a Home Makers exposition, to be conducted by the Washington State Federation during the latter part of the convention, and various other intriguing features. Mrs. Annie Little Barry, president of the California federation, will preside at the Western Federation banquet and speak on "Our Common Goal, a More Abundant Life," at yesterday's sessions.

Junior Ebell Officers Are Entertained at Dinner Bridge
Memories of the interesting initial year of Junior Ebell society were coupled with anticipations of similar successes in the year to come, when members of both the retiring and the incoming official boards of that group of interesting young women, were entertained Thursday night at dinner, by Miss Constance Cruickshank, who has served as president during the trying first year of the organization.

In greeting the guests, Miss Cruickshank was joined by her parents and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank and the Misses Josephine and Marion Cruickshank, and by her grandmother, Mrs. L. A. White. At the dinner table, lovely with its delicate white flowers, covers were laid also for Mrs. Robert S. Wade, incoming president; Miss Rowena Moore, Mrs. Edmund West, Miss Evelyn Metzgar, Miss Nelle Bales, Miss Charlotte Moulton, Miss Margaret Patterson, Miss Lolita Mead, Miss Mary Saffley and Mrs. Charles Dawes.

The wide hearth of the drawing room where a cheerful fire blazed, beckoned the guests for their enjoyment of after dinner coffee, following which tables for bridge were grouped close by. In the contest, Miss Nelle Bales scored high, and Miss Rowena Moore, second high, winning the awards selected by the hostess.

Much to Miss Cruickshank's surprise, there was an additional gift, and she was the recipient instead of the donor. For Junior Ebell members had selected a graceful flower basket in sterling silver as a token of the appreciation which they feel for her leadership in the club year now closing.

Phi Zeta Installation
Brings Busy Year
To Close

A successful and interesting season came to a close for members of Phi Zeta sorority on Wednesday evening, with the installation of new officers to serve the musical group through the coming year. It was at the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music that the rites were held, with Miss Blanche Owens, retiring president, as installing officer.

Miss Dorothy Mayhew will serve as president during the year to come, and those inducted into office with her were Maxine Bryte, vice president; Evelyn Metzgar, recording secretary; Blanche Owens, corresponding secretary; Margaret Rust, treasurer, and Charlotte Moulton, guide.

Program features of the evening opened with an extremely interesting talk by Frances Hunt Beeson, who took "American Music" as her theme. Contemporary composers and their work were stressed and illustrated was given her talk by the examples of modern music played and by the songs presented by the Treble Clef trio, Lorena Hanson, Blanche Owens and Edna Bichan. Their choice embraced compositions of Kreisler, Clara Edwards and Lily Strickland.

The program seemed to sum up much of what the sorority has accomplished during the year just closing. For contemporary music has been the general study theme, with composers of America, Russia, Italy, France and Spain under consideration. It is the plan to continue this study through the coming year.

For the remainder of the evening, sorority members joined in lively chat and the enjoyment of a delectable refreshment course served by the hostesses, Frances Hunt Beeson, Oniska Orndorf, Margaret Baker and Marian Young.

Enjoying the hospitality of this hostess quartet were Edna Bichan, June Burns, Maxine Bryte, Dorothy Mayhew, Blanche Owens, Juanita Parks, Margaret Rust, Marian Scott, Milvonne Swales and one of the sorority patronesses, Mrs. Leonard G. Swales.

With the induction of Mrs. Lillian Pritchett and her corps of newly elected officers, the women of Emma Sansom chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy climaxed a year as successful as any experienced by that order in some period, at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Rebecca Pope, 222 North Grand street, Orange.

Assuming office with Mrs. Pritchett, incoming president, were Mrs. Ernest Cox, first vice president; Mrs. Jessie Luchsinger of Anaheim, second vice president; Miss Percy Head, secretary; Mrs. J. W. Taylor, treasurer; Miss Louise Montgomery, registrar; Mrs. C. E. Price, recorder of crosses; Mrs. Alice Turner, chaplain, and Mrs. Rebecca Pope, historian.

Installation was impressively conducted by Miss Gertrude Montgomery, Mrs. Pritchett's predecessor in office. The ceremony was accompanied by the presentation of flowers to incoming and retiring presidents.

Thursday rites were a feature of a program devoted to Texas, the early history of this largest state, its products and its growth being reviewed with competence and enthusiasm by Mrs. Cassius E. Paul.

The possibility of attending the national convention of the Confederate Veterans and auxiliaries in Richmond, Va., the middle of this month was discussed by members, although no definite arrangements have been made by any woman in the local chapter.

Hostesses, including Mrs. Pope, Mrs. Nora Northcross and her daughter, and Mrs. Annie Blythe and her daughter, Miss Lota Blythe, all of Orange, were praised for their artistic arrangement of flowers and the attractive refreshment course served at the program's conclusion.

Pretty Bridal Shower Given in Santa Ana Tea Room

With Miss Dorothy Van Valin of La Habra Heights as their incentive for hospitality, Mrs. W. E. Marsh and her daughter, Miss Margaret Marsh of Villa Park, were hostesses Thursday afternoon, at a charmingly appointed function given in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe of Santa Ana.

Miss Van Valin, who is the daughter of the Grant A. Van Valins of La Habra Heights, recently announced her engagement to Ray Marsh, of La Habra Heights, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Marsh of Villa Park. The wedding date of June 23 was announced at the same time. The pretty bride-elect has just completed her junior year at Pomona college where she has studied since her graduation from Fullerton Union high school with the class of 1929.

Mrs. Marsh and Miss Marsh received their guests at 1 o'clock, and a two-course luncheon, served to the accompaniment of summer blossoms, initiated the social phases of the afternoon. The chief entertainment feature lay in the guests' participation in a shower of miscellaneous gifts for the honoree, Miss Van Valin.

Sharing the hospitality of the mothers and daughter hostesses, were their honoree, Miss Van Valin, Mrs. Grant A. Van Valin, Mrs. P. J. Weisel, Miss Louise Weisel and Mrs. George Soule, La Habra Heights; Mrs. Theodore Bratton, Mrs. Alfred Dierker, Miss Charlotte Knuth and Mrs. Lloyd Baker of Orange; Mrs. Alfred Marsh, Mrs. E. Moll and Mrs. Grace Inga of Long Beach; Mrs. S. W. Horner of Venice; Miss Doris Redfern of Placentia; Miss Marian Marsden of Fullerton, and Mrs. Henry Steffe of Santa Ana.

With the induction of Mrs. Lillian Pritchett and her corps of newly elected officers, the women of Emma Sansom chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy climaxed a year as successful as any experienced by that order in some period, at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Rebecca Pope, 222 North Grand street, Orange.

Officers Elected at Section Meeting In Paul Home

Enjoying the hospitality of the lovely J. E. Paul home in Tustin, with Mrs. Cassius Paul and Mrs. Ridley Smith as co-hostesses, members of the Modern Literature section of Ebell society met yesterday afternoon.

Election of officers was a feature of the meeting, over which the leader, Mrs. John Ball, presided. Mrs. Hugh J. Lowe was named leader; Mrs. George Runt, assistant leader; Mrs. Cassius Paul, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. M. B. Wellington, program chairman.

Mrs. Loyal K. King contributed to the program, giving a review of "Thunder and Dawn," by Dr. Glenn Frank.

During the social hour which followed, Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Smith were assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs. Duntion and Mrs. Robert Alexander. Bouquets of flowers in pastel tints were used in decorating.

This was the section's last meeting of the season.

Poly Alumna Awarded
Scripps Freshman
Scholarship

Any uncertainty which Miss Betty Smedley may have entertained regarding entering college next fall, following her graduation this month from Santa Ana high school, has been resolved by her success in winning a competitive freshman scholarship at Scripps college, Claremont, announcement of her achievement having reached her at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smedley, 2210 Greenleaf street.

Miss Smedley, who has been active in all campus life in the local high school, including sports and music as well as the scholastic program, took both the Stanford Aptitude test and the test at Scripps college in the competition for the scholarship, which was open to all high school graduates. She passed both tests with such excellent grades that she was accorded honor rating in each.

Her present plans are to enter Scripps at the beginning of school in September, and have a year of foundation work before deciding definitely upon her major studies.

Officers Elected at Section Meeting In Paul Home

JOACHIM RAFF

BY RUTH ANDREWS

The life story of Joachim Raff, noted as a composer of considerable importance during the latter part of the last century, seems especially typical of the experiences shared by so many really gifted composers. Despite his most tireless, conscientious efforts, disappointment and limitation ever seemed to prevent Raff from attaining his most cherished musical ambitions, while through most of his career poverty closely dogged his footsteps, making his every day existence one of continual struggle and anxiety.

Indeed, this spectre of ever present financial need made it necessary for Raff to waste the better part of his youth and talents in turning out quantities of hackwork in the form of mediocre compositions and magazine articles that might supply for him the actual necessities. Not only did the pressure of adverse circumstances leave him all too little time to devote to really creative work, but it hastened his death as a result of worry and overwork.

Thus today only a very few of Raff's numerous symphonic works, including his third and fifth symphonies ("Im Walde" and "L'Enfer") still retain their former popularity, although during his busy life he completed nearly 250 works, fluently written in all the many varied forms of musical expression. Some of his lighter works, including the very popular violin piece, "Cavatina," are still in vogue to some extent, but one cannot deny that the onward progress of modernistic composition has brought about a decline of the popularity he enjoyed during the past generation.

Raff was born in Lachen, Lake of Zurich, on May 27, 1822, of musical parentage. His early education was received in Wurtemberg, and at a Jesuit school in Switzerland, poverty making impossible his continuance at a university. While still in his teens he became a schoolteacher, a profession that was far from his liking. His love and talent for music could be gratified only through self-education, but he devoted his spare moments to the study of composition, violin, and piano with really unusual results, so that by the time he was only 21, he had completed works which he sent to the famous composer, Felix Mendelssohn, for his verdict.

Encouraged by Mendelssohn's praise, and the fact that he was able to publish some of his works for piano, Raff gave up his school teaching in order to devote his entire time to composition, although his financial condition at this time was far from enviable.

When he was 34, Raff accompanied the famous Franz Liszt, noted piano virtuoso, upon a concert tour. They separated in Cologne, and Raff settled there for a time, to write magazine reviews, and continue composition, ever struggling with debts, continually disappointed in his plans, but winning a certain degree of fame, since noted pianists including Hans von Bulow, recognized his talents, and featured his works on their programs.

An opera, "King Alfred," written by Raff while still in his twenties, was accepted for performance at the court theater, but with the Revolution of 1848, all such plans were abandoned, although the work was finally brought out several years later in revised form in Weimar, through the influence of Liszt. Another opera, "Dame Kobold," in comic vein, followed later, also being brought out at Weimar.

Raff's maturity was marked by incessant work, not only as a composer, but in the lesser capacity of piano teacher, a role in which he really achieved quite a degree of success. All the while, however, he composed an astounding number of works of decidedly varied merit, some of excellent quality, others quite mediocre, because they were forced and hurried.

Five years prior to his death, when Raff was 55, his talents were recognized by his appointment as director of the Hoch Conservatory located in Frankfurt, and during the period he served in this capacity, his influence on many musicians who were later to become celebrated was far-reaching. One of our most famous American composers, Edward MacDowell, was a student at the Frankfurt institution during Raff's period of service there, and profited much from the personal contact with the older German composer.

Raff remained at the Frankfurt Conservatory until his sudden death in 1882, as a result of apoplexy. His life had been an extremely active one, marked by remarkable mental exertion. As a composer his outstanding characteristics were an astonishingly fluent vein of melody, a technical command of the principles of composition, and great creative fertility.

cluding his "Life of Christ" have achieved world-wide popularity during the past several years, has recently completed the libretto of an opera based upon Shakespeare's "King Lear."

The music is composed by Vito Frazz, contemporary Italian composer. The work will be premiered at La Scala in Milan next season.

Spalding Concludes Tour

Albert Spalding, one of the most popular of our contemporary American violinists, as well as one of our most favored artists in European centers, recently concluded an extensive European tour. His current season included appearances in such centers as Amsterdam, The Hague, Kiel, Bremen, Berlin, Hamburg, Darmstadt, Munich, Wiesbaden, Hanover, Copenhagen, Utrecht, Paris and Monte Carlo.

Spalding returned to the United States and first of June and will spend the summer at his home in the Berkshires.

Honor Noted Pianist

Serge Rachmaninoff, internationally famous Slavic pianist-composer, considered one of the foremost contemporary concert artists, has recently been awarded the gold medal of the Royal Philharmonic Society of London, a rare honor accorded only to musicians of great eminence.

Following an active season of concertizing, Rachmaninoff will spend the entire summer at his home on Lake Lucerne, Switzerland, and plans to devote part of his time to composing.

How Are Your Hands?

Perhaps you'll remember I published a remedy for doing away with chapped raw hands several days ago? I hope each one of you has bought her little bottle of glycerine and tried the remedy. It was to be mixed with a little vinegar, just enough to cut the glycerine, and rubbed into the hands after the dishes are finished, or on any occasion when your hands have been in water for a length of time.

Mine are there a good many hours each day, with a garden to get in order and all the things a kitchen demands of one, but with the use of this simple lotion I keep them velvety-smooth where once they were the reverse. Do try it.

Every year I have promised myself faithfully that I would build a cold frame for the coming year, and each year has seen that promise just a whiff-whiff until this one. I am tearing up an old orchard, making it into a lovely lawn framed by flower borders. So I've had a chance to see how necessary a frame is to anyone who likes quantities of flowers.

Economy had to be counted on, so I got a long, sturdy packing box, had a hole dug to fit it two-thirds of the way up. The top had an addition built on that slants up towards the back. Two old window frames cover it to perfection—they are hinged onto the high side.

A layer of broken tile in the bottom provides plenty of drainage, while rich soil mixed with fine sand makes the ideal forcing soil for the perennials I am getting ready for fall planting. These forcing boxes must be set in a sunny, sheltered spot.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Marengo Chicken

2 or more small fryers cut in joints
1/4 pound fresh mushrooms or 1 small can of mushrooms
1 medium onion, diced
2 cups chopped tomato
Salt, pepper and flour for dredging

Fat for frying
Cut the chicken in joints for serving, have ready some seasoned flour in a big paper bag, drop in the chicken and shake it . . . all the mussy business of rolling the chicken done away with, you see.

Have some hot bacon fat in a skillet, brown the joints in it, transfer to a casserole, add the diced mushrooms, onions and tomato. Season nicely, cover and cook in a slow oven until the chicken is tender. Add a little hot water if it gets too dry.

Have slices of thin buttered toast on a platter, arrange the chicken on the toast, add more water to the gravy and thicken slightly. Pour over the pieces and serve. A poached egg is supposed to go with each portion, but that smacks to me of "painting the lily." Chicken is chicken and needs no boosts or bolstering.

This recipe, using two fryers, ought to serve five people. The individual caloric total would be around 550, mostly the tissue builders.

Last call for THE VERSATILE SANDWICH! You can still slip under the wire if you'll send me your stamped, self-addressed envelope. I hope you'll do that little thing, for there are some grand recipes in this sandwich leaflet.

Au revoir till Monday.

WATER FRONT SCRIBE SPEAKS

BOOK REVIEWS

By MARY BURKE KING

America as Americans See it, Michigan on "Higher Education." edited by Fred J. Ringel, published by Harcourt, Brace & Co.

Here is an omnibus edition all ready for the summer time. But if you expect it to be of the weight of "Living Philosophies," which stimulated discussion on vacations last summer let the thought perish. It was planned by Fred J. Ringel, a journalist from Germany who had the happy idea of having Americans write a book describing themselves to the rest of the world. Then he proceeded to execute the idea. He selected forty-five leading people of the United States, many of them authorities in the particular phase of American life of which they treat, and assigned suitable subjects to them. Each one of the forty-five writers is introduced by means of a short biographical sketch written by some outstanding person.

Many of the articles are excellent. There are places where one must admit that visiting foreigners have analyzed that particular phase with greater perspicuity and gentleness withal. At other times the articles are so inadequate that one is horrified at the idea that the book is intended for foreign consumption—but then after the exportation of the movies what have we to fear? Half-truths hold no more terrors. In a number of cases several writers have been called upon to write on practically the same subject as for example three papers on "Chicago," "Crime and Racketeering" and "Graft in America"—related subjects. Two phases of American life are omitted: Religion, and Politics.

The articles are all short. The one on the Scenery of the United States by Walter Richard Eaton is one we will all want all foreigners to read because of their tendency to see the whole of America from Manhattan. Mr. Eaton has done a fine piece of writing in expressing facts as well as color in one brief paper. Sherwood Anderson writes a paper on "The Times and the Towns." A new and a sweeter Sherwood Anderson has emerged from the chrysalis that was Sherwood Anderson years ago. In those early books he described many things that are probably true about people in towns but one felt that they were things which could not have been said by anyone who appreciated the town and its people. None has ever done justice to the town and small city and something should be done for it since that awful remark which everyone knows about the devil having made the small town. A few years ago he told us about it in: Hello! Towns. There is feeling back of this essay on the town. He has gone past conclusions—he is feeling the small town. Some day he may describe this experience as ably as he expressed his other attitudes.

John Held, Jr.'s paper on "College Life" is balanced by one by Dr. Clarence Cook Little, former president of the University of

For example there is that cartoon of the man hunting for prosperity which is "just around the corner." There are an endless number of corners. There is a photograph of Jané Addams surrounded by children which balances the tone of some of the others.

On the whole after finishing the book it is doubtful whether the European will know much more about us than he does at the beginning. He will think he does. But what he thinks he knows will be formed from the phrase or description which had the most fixative for there is not much reiteration.

HINDENBURG, THE MAN WITH THREE LIVES by T. R. Ybarra, published by Duffield and Green.

Paul Von Hindenburg, president of the German republic, is one of the half dozen most important men alive today. Recent events have opened two roads before him, or he has opened them himself. If he has why has he. Why has he parted with Brüning? What is his attitude toward the Hitlerites?

These questions are not answered in this book, of course—they are too recent. They are uppermost in our minds. The book affords a background for speculation. The character of Von Hindenburg stands between all of Europe and chaos. With Von Hindenburg gone, Germany will become a battle ground for the Communists and Fascists. Therefore the personality and character of this important figure looms all important. At least two books and innumerable articles have appeared on the man with three lives. Of the two books, T. R. Ybarra's is probably the most readable. The author is a journalist. In this book he is revealed as a stylist of no mean parts. The book is graphic, interpretive rather than factual.

President Von Hindenburg is something of a phenomena—a man who commanded Germany's defeated army lives in popular esteem to become President of the Republic!

The book is fascinating reading. Some who will read it will continue to seek a book which goes more deeply into the life of the president of Germany, a book in which the author has gathered together facts—an historically important book as it were. This one should be popular, it is delightful reading.

THE WAY FORWARD by Robert S. Brookings, published by the MacMillan Company.

This is certainly the period for books along economic and political-economic lines. When winds blow adversely people are ready to think critically and constructively and changeably along these lines. Mr. Brookings, who has always been keenly interested in the industrial problem, in this very brief book brings together some of his articles which bear on the problems of the moment.

Among the topics which he discusses are: Capitalism in Evolution; The Way Forward in Industry in the United States; the Way Forward for Agriculture in the United States; the Way Forward for Europe; The Way Forward for Russia. With the flood of material along this line there are many gospels, some will find the idea of one writer the most appealing, because of the manner of their presentation or their practicability to others, another will appeal.

Dr. Brookings advocates planning, "I personally," he says, "have never known an individual or an institution to realize the maximum of his or its opportunities without some clearly defined plan of procedure stimulated by periodical goals." Again capitalism, if it is to save itself must recognize the need of some changes. He advocates making labor in reality the partner and ally of capital. He proposes an national incorporation act which would require that in the process of reincorporation the assets of the old corporation should be fairly valued, and in the new federal corporation, these assets should be represented by securities so classified as to properly protect the former security holders. The new corporation would, however, take labor with the corporation.

The way forward for Europe involves, of course, an increase in European markets by the removal of tariff barriers.

SHUTTLE AND SWORD by Hawthorne Daniel, The MacMillan Company.

The field of children's book is so extensive and so important that this reviewer hesitates to play the role of the fool who walks in where angels fear to tread. Having listened to a few mothers discuss children's literature and even deploring the insidious influence of certain classics, one is rather overwhelmed with diffidence. The only thing I was ready to contend for, was the reading of the classics at the proper age in childhood for it seemed that after school days the gaps left by a failure to read the classics would probably never be filled during life. Anyhow I enjoyed "Shuttle and Sword" immensely and it seemed to me to be a fascinating story for boys from 12 to 16; though children are so sophisticated nowadays that maybe the infant prodigies of three in the progressive schools would get a big "kick" out of it.

The story is about the son of a master deaver in Bruges. The father wanted his son Dierck to grow up wiser than he in the ways of his trade. So he sent him out into the world away from the beautiful rich town he knew so well, first to Ghent, to the great burgher von Artevelde. Adventure and excitement lay along the road he traveled. It was a time of war between the French and the English and a count wanted to draw the burghers of Flanders into the struggle. The boy Dierck was held in Ghent to help in the search for the brave son of the Deán of the Guild of Boatmen. He saw the strongholds of the burghers and Karl of Ghent. He saw some hard fighting, was captured by the count's men, rescued, and started again for Antwerp and England. But again he was kept from learning more about the wool trade, through the count's edict against the English. He had to go back to Bruges and endure a bad winter; the Flemish towns were idle because of the wars. The rest of the story shows the rise of von Artevelde of Ghent to be a power in Flanders, and the effect of his friendship on the life of the weaver's son in Bruges.

There is considerable fighting in the story but little of the glamour of battle for the lesson is unmistakably brought out that war is the battle for the lesson is unmistakably for business.

SEVEN JAPANESE BEAUTIES IN AN OLD PRINT

by Irvin D. Perry

Seven clustered, pale-faced maids of Old Japan: Nine jointed bamboo stalks; a cloud dim-lined, Spread high; they stand within a space confined— These make a frame for Ladies of the Fan. And standing there they pose as if a ban Were on all motion, and from toe to flare Of thick, black, heavy-ornamented hair— Without a stir, softgazing, as maids can.

O Ladies clad in heavy, brodered gowns, Impassive, eyes demurely dropping low, Soft colors, contrasts, like fine unpaid gold; Did not your hearts, for all your parent's frowns, Beat like a cymbal when the knights a-row In lacquered armor passed your cloistered fold?

CURRENT MUSIC NEWS

LOS ANGELES

U. S. C. Summer Music

The College of Music at the University of Southern California announces the opening of the first term of its summer session on June 17, to continue until July 29. The latter date marks the opening of its second term, to close on September 2. Musical courses to be offered will include theoretical work, teaching methods, organization, choral and orchestral work. During the second term, advanced harmony, form and analyses will be given in charge of Julia Howell. Curriculum and methods in music appreciation for high schools will be in charge of Bess Daniels; for elementary schools will be in charge of Angela Diller from the Diller-Qualle Music School, New York.

Popular Orchestral Concerts
A series of weekly "Summer Twilight Concerts" is now being offered at popular prices at the Greek Theater in Griffith park each Saturday and Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock by the Women's Concert Orchestra association (reorganized Women's Philharmonic Orchestra of California) under the direction of Wm. C. Ulrich.

A similar series of popular symphony concerts is being offered at the Greek Theater in Griffith park each Tuesday and Friday evening by the People's Orchestra, organized from the ranks of unemployed orchestra musicians of Los Angeles, and directed by Heinrich Hammer. This series will continue until the opening of the Bowl season early next month. The same organization also opened a series of eight weekly Sunday afternoon concerts at Bovard auditorium, U. S. C. last Sunday, June 5.

Cadman Returns Home

Following 10 weeks of concert and radio engagements in New York, Chicago and elsewhere throughout the East, Charles Wakefield Cadman, noted Southern California composer formerly of Los Angeles, returned to his present home at La Mesa, near San Diego, last week.

Cadman is now engaged in writing a one-act quartet opera for concert performance.

THE TINYMIES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The elephant that the Tinnies found had lots of fun just running round. It was a very playful sort and liked each Tinnymite. A man came up and said, "Well, boys, how would you like to hear some noise? I'll tease Slim Jim with peanuts and he'll howl with all his might!"

The man then held a peanut out. It tempted big Slim Jim, no doubt, because he started howling. Shortly Scouty cried, "Please stop!"

"This may be quite a funny thing, but howling makes my poor ears ring." The man brought forth a bag and from it let some peanuts drop.

Down went a great big trunk and then the elephant was still again. "I'm going to get some more peanuts," said Windy, with a grin.

"We'll make him hold his trunk up high, and then watch me. I'm going to try to show you I'm a dandy shot. I'll toss some peanuts in."

He scampered off, but soon came back an dvery shortly had the knack of tossing peanuts in the trunk. The other Tinnies cheered.

Then Coppy said, "Let's have some tricks from that big elephant. I'll fix a place for him to do them. There is nothing to be feared."

"He's very tame, and fond of us. I'm sure that he won't make a fuss, if we ask him to roll around." "All right," the others cried.

Then Coppy spread a blanket wide. "Flopp down on it," wee Scouty cried. The elephant then knelt down and rolled over on his side.

Soon Duncy said, "I have a hunch that I am sure will please this bunch. I'll let Slim Jim walk over me." He then flopper on the ground. The wise old elephant seemed to know just where he was supposed to go. He stepped right over Duncy and the lad was safe and sound.

H. B. High School Arranges For Graduation Exercises

98 GRADUATES GET DIPLOMAS ON WEDNESDAY

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 11.—The graduation program for the Huntington Beach Union High school will be held Wednesday night. There will be 98 students graduating with Arthur Frost as valedictorian and Robert Heitz as salutatorian. Willis H. Warner, president of the school board, will present the diplomas. The program will be held in the high school auditorium, the program to start at 8 o'clock p. m.

The Rev. John E. Engle, pastor of the Methodist church, will deliver the invocation. The program will be presented almost entirely by the students. There will be addresses by Arthur Frost, Dean Frost and Vivian Reeves, of the graduation class and the Rev. W. A. Matson, of Midway City, will pronounce the benediction. Music will be furnished by the Girls' Glee club, the Boys' Glee club and the school orchestra.

Sunday night at the school auditorium the Rev. J. G. Hurst, pastor of the Christian church, will deliver the sermon to graduates, the churches dispensing with services that night in order that all may attend the graduation service.

SURPRISE PARTY HELD BY ATHLETES

MIDWAY CITY, June 11.—Complimenting Mrs. M. E. Peters, mother of Kenneth Peters, member of the Huntington Beach Union High school ball team, boys of the teams gave a surprise dinner party at her home this week. There were 15 ball players present. A card expressing appreciation was sent Mrs. Peters by Nelson Morgan, captain of the basketball team, who is confined in her home with injuries sustained in an automobile accident. Those present included Coach Leon W. Miner, James Talley, Everett Jenkins, Wendell Kanawyer, captain of football and indoor; Bob Thornton, Arthur Thornton, Glenn Shaffer, Reggie Lake, Dick Moore, Lefty Stockwell, Raymond Furuta, Jack Kritz, Kenneth Peters and Miss Nancy Clapp and Miss Verbal Russell and the honoree, Mrs. M. E. Peters, and Mr. Peters.

Mrs. Peters, who last year entertained the members of the team, had planned to hold a party again this year.

ADOPT CONSTITUTION
WESTMINSTER, June 11.—The constitution of the Young Matrons' club was officially accepted at a meeting of members held at the church hall. Present were the new president, Mrs. Idabelle Penhall; Mrs. Vera Skinner, Mrs. Grace Groves, Mrs. Orpha Price, Mrs. Alvaretta Campbell, Mrs. Margaret Prindle and Mrs. May Finley.

102 Pupils Graduate In Beach City

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 11.—The graduation program of the elementary school was held Friday night at the school auditorium. Diplomas were presented by Warren J. Bristol, president of the school board. Talks were made to the students by C. B. Baldwin, school superintendent, and by M. G. Jones, head of the union high school.

The program this year was planned as a strictly student affair, with the graduates in full charge. Howard Smith, student body president, presided. Talks were made by Dorothy Salisbury, Marjorie George, Ernest Stratus, Frances Whalen, Henry Kenegage, Marilyn Clark, Ola Orrell and Bill Okada. Invocation was pronounced by Meriam Engle and music was contributed by the school orchestra and by the graduating class.

The auditorium was filled to seating capacity by the friends of the 102 boys and girls. Miss Geneva Heibing presented the class to Superintendent C. B. Baldwin, who in turn presented the class to President Bristol of the school board.

DRY WORKERS FACE BATTLE, SAYS PASTOR

TUSTIN, June 11.—Declaring the newspapers, the churches and Sunday schools the main sources to work through for the dry cause, the Rev. Grover Ralston, pastor of the Yorba Linda Methodist Episcopal church, delivered a stirring address last night at a called meeting of the strategy committee held in the Presbyterian church.

"Drinking is wrong, booze can never be right and we must not let the 18th amendment be repealed," the Rev. Mr. Ralston said. "We must be dry teachers and begin with students in the grade schools, explaining the evils of liquor. The trouble is too many young folks think they can get along without God. Our high school and college students must be taught about Jesus Christ and the church and respect for law and order."

"Thousands of dollars are being poured into this country from Great Britain and other foreign countries to assist in the repeal of the 18th amendment. The Standard Oil company and other big businesses that we thought were dry, are in favor of repeal because of the profits to themselves. There never has been an amendment to the United States constitution repealed. According to government statistics, drinking in the United States has been decreased 65 per cent and in Canada, drinking has increased 25 per cent."

He told of the old saloon and its evils and said dry workers face a hard fight, declaring that we must stand shoulder to shoulder or the Wright act will be repealed. The speaker said he did not think the 18th amendment has ever had a square deal.

The Rev. J. Stuart Hydanus presided at the meeting in the absence of the temporary president, John W. Sauer. Mrs. William A. Hazen resigned as temporary secretary and Miss Florence Stone was elected to fill the vacancy.

Start Work Soon On San Clemente School Addition
SAN CLEMENTE, June 11.—Work on the addition to the San Clemente grammar school will start as soon as the plans sent to the state superintendent for approval are returned to the school board. The contract was officially awarded to John C. Blystone, of Brea, by the board at a special meeting last night. His bid of $693 was low.

Blystone says that he is ready to start work as soon as plans are turned over to him. He estimates that the contract will take about 10 weeks to complete. The school rooms, a janitor's room, painting, landscaping and other work is called for in the contract.

Officers Named By Odd Fellows
WESTMINSTER, June 11.—Odd Fellows of Westminster elected officers this week. Dwigth McDaniels goes in as noble grand, Fred Poe as vice grand, Charles C. Murdy, as recording secretary, Richard Arnett as financial secretary, and M. Galbreath as treasurer. Installation of the new officers will occur in July.

BEACH COUPLE WEDS
SUNSET BEACH, June 11.—Glenn Varley, proprietor of the local fish market, and Mary Zarnar were married yesterday. Miss Zarnar, former resident of Sunset Beach, now works in Los Angeles. She will continue her work there until the end of the year. The couple then will make their home in Sunset Beach.

BEACH GRADE SCHOOL PUPILS GET DIPLOMAS

SEAL BEACH, June 11.—Graduation exercises were held Thursday night in the Seal Beach grammar school. The processional was played by Miss Neva Searle. The stage was beautiful, decorated with gladioluses, the class flower, and in other orchid and yellow flowers to carry out the class colors.

After the invocation by the Rev. D. W. Willt the class history was read by John Betkey. Class prophecy was read by Marcell Glenn and the class will by Gladys Jones. The valedictorian, Margaret E. Smith, gave her address on the class motto, "Not at the Top, But Climbing." Margaret has won many class honors since she started in as a first grader. Following the valedictory address were two selections by the Girls' Glee club. John W. Wilson, principal of the Edison Junior High school, Long Beach, delivered the address of the evening.

FOUR SPRINGDALE PUPILS GRADUATE

SPRINGDALE, June 11.—A capacity crowd of friends and relatives greeted the four members of the commencement class of Springdale school Thursday evening, when the closing program of the term was given by the school under the direction of the two teachers, Mrs. Elizabeth Young and Mrs. Nora J. Von Gierke. Graduates were Mildred Ruoff, Alvin Graham, Leona Peters and Mitsuru Imoto.

Diplomas were presented by John Kettler, trustee of the school. Dr. L. E. Russell of the county health department was the speaker of the evening. Instrumental music was given by Scott Hoopner. The primary department gave several numbers. Two Hawaiian guitar players were given by Alvin Graham and Mildred Ruoff, and a flag drill was given by intermediate pupils. "The Sale of the Class of 1932" was a special feature by Mitsuru Imoto of the commencement class. Mildred Ruoff was salutatorian and Alvin Graham valedictorian. "Remembrance" was presented by Leona Peters. The seventh grade presentation was made by Geraldine Houser.

Couple Welcomed At Bolsa Social

BOLSA, June 11.—A housewarming for Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wallingford, proprietors of the I. D. Wallingford general merchandise store of Bolsa was given this week by friends welcoming the popular couple who have just returned to this community to reside after an absence of a number of years. The surprise gathered at the Wallingford home and later escorted the honorees to the Bolsa clubhouse, where dancing, cards and a pot luck luncheon were enjoyed. Among those in the party were Mr. and Mrs. Glade Fuller and son, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bauer and family, Miss Helen Hill, Miss Haas, Mr. and Mrs. Bill May and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jesse and son, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Ham and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Pysden and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Farnsworth, and Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Wallingford.

"ZEKE'S BUNCH" TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC ON SUNDAY

TUSTIN, June 11.—Nearly 500 men and women who attended Tustin elementary school during the 22-year period that John J. Zeilan served as professor, will leave tomorrow morning with their former teacher for Irvine park, where they will enjoy their annual all day "Zeke's Picnic." Mayor William Huntley announced today. More than 400 copies of the revised roster of "Zeke's Bunch" announcing the picnic date and giving the names and latest available addresses of all the old school mates recorded on the official list were mailed out several days ago by Dan D. Adams, chairman, William C. Jerome, J. C. Lamb and William Huntley, committee in charge of arrangements.

Tustin's present beautiful elementary school plant with its spacious, comfortable class rooms and modern equipment and its 20 teachers and nearly 500 pupils, are a decided contrast to the little old four-room wooden building that Professor Zeilan (Zeke), now of Santa Ana, found on the first day of school in the year 1910 when he started his long period of service for Tustin boys and girls. Mrs. D. L. McCharles and Mrs. D. D. Field (Miss Edith Haskins), both still living in Tustin, were teachers during those days.
